Bible Comment: God's Word Must Dwell in Every Good Human Heart

WHEN the Psalmist wrote "Thy word have I hid in mine heart, that I might not sin against Thee," what did he mean?
In the New Testament, in John 1, is the account of the Word that was in the beginning, the Word made flesh, dwelling among men in the earthly life of Jesus, "the Word that was with God, and was God."
But what did the word of God mean to Old Testament writers, who wrote many years before Jesus came?
For them, as for those of the New Testament, it meant God in the heart, and the "heart" was the center of man's life and being. To have God in the heart meant to be guided and controlled by God.

So the word of God in the heart was a word of law and command. The good life was not a matter of chance, or of man's preference. It was based on the unalterable character and laws of God Himself.
This elemental truth, so repeatedly emphasized in the Psalms, has been sadly neglected even by many who make profession of religion and consider themselves among the saved.
What a world this would be if every nominal Christian and church member had the Psalmist's passion to have the word of God hidden in the heart, so deep and strong that it was the motive power of every word and action!
To be "upright and innocent from the great transgression" must be the sincere purpose of every man who would be worthy of a place in the fellowship of those who love the Lord.
The New Testament reveals the word of God as love, and the indwelling of God's Spirit as the source of spiritual power to obey the word.
To hear and obey the voice of God within is man's highest attainment and destiny.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SOCIETY

Sixth Street and Second Avenue
"Adam and Fallen Man" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, November 8, 1953.
The Golden Text is: "As by the offence of one judgement came upon all men to condemnation; even so by ythe righteousness of one the free gift came upon all men unto justification for life." (Romans 5:18). Other Bible citations include, "The righteous shall inherit the land, and dwell therein for ever. The mouth of the righteous speaketh wisdom, and his tongue talketh of judgment. The law of his God is in his heart; none of his steps shall slide." (Psalms 37:29-31).
The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Life is, always has been, and ever will be independent of matter; for Life is God, and man is the idea of God, not formed materially but spiritually, and not subject to decay and dust. The Psalmist said: 'Thou madest him to have dominion over the works of Thy hands. Thou hast put all things under his feet.'" (Page 200).
