Cass County Canners
Activities of the Cass County Canners 4-H Club of Nehawka for 1952 have been summarized in a report by the club leader, Miss Evelyn Wolph. The summary follows:
Six girls were enrolled in the canning project in 1952 following an organizational meeting on December 12, 1952. Officers elected were Jo Ellen Nixon, president; Twila Hicks, vice president; Marilyn Whipple, reporter; Shirley Switzer, secretary; and Sue Johnson, health.

Jo Ellen Nixon and Twila Hicks held at the home of Miss Wolph with 37 attending. Special guests were Miss Schultz, county home extension agent; Mrs. J. M. Ranney of Weeping Water; Mrs. Dorothea Holstein, state 4-H leader; mothers and sisters, and members of the Sheldon store award committees.
Sue Johnson demonstrated "preparing a jar for canning and exhibit" at achievement day and at the county fair where she received three blue ribbons, though too young for state competition.
Jo Ellen Nixon and Marilyn Whipple demonstrated "freezing apricots" at achievement day; Marilyn Whipple and Sue Johnson judged at the county fair and Marilyn represented the county in canning judging at the state fair. The song group earned a red ribbon at the county fair.
Cass County Canners Budget II placed blue at the state fair where Phyllis Switzer won a blue ribbon on her Canning I budget. Marilyn Whipple's secretary book placed blue.
4-H Sunday was observed, and the county 4-H party, county and state fairs, King Korn Carnival and store exhibits added interest to the year's work. The club sent a box of Christmas gifts to a children's home.
Placings by the club included 17 blue and 6 red at Achievement Day; three blue, 6 red and 4 white at the state fair; 17 blue, 8 red and three white at the county fair; and 21 blue and 4 red at the Korn Carnival.
Phyllis Switzer was county canning champion and also frozen foods winner.
Miss Wolph was assisted by Phyllis Switzer, Marilyn Whipple and Jo Ellen Nixon, who extend their thanks for past favors.

Hand-Crocheted Organzas Enhance Your Wardrobe

BY EDNA MILES

THE best that you can afford to buy is still a good rule of thumb when you're out shopping for clothes.

The dress or suit that's a sound investment will serve you season after season, long after the so-called bargains have vanished from your closet.

For any special, late-day or evening occasion, or for small, informal weddings, there's a gossamer hand-crocheted organza that looks fragile but is actually sturdy.

It packs beautifully and takes seasons of hard wear without showing signs of use.

This hand-crocheted organza is a favorite of designer Ann Fleischer, who often uses it in medallions of two sizes to create a cobwebby look in a dress.

These organzas are made over net, usually a matching net to lend a one-color look to the dress. Some of the blacks and browns, however, have slips in pink, orchid or even red.

Tiny medallions appear in lacy dresses that are in tones of maple sugar, taupe or cocoa. Beige organza looks young in a dress with high neckline, scalloped Johnny collar and short, turned-back sleeves.

For the informal wedding, there are hand-crocheted dresses in white that can be worn many seasons after the wedding.

This cobwebby, hand-crocheted organza dress has various-sized medallions, flaring skirt and scalloped neckline.

CHURCH NEWS - CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SOCIETY
Sixth Street and Second Avenue
"Is the Universe, Including Man, Evolved by Atomic Force?" will be the subject Lesson-Sermon to be read at Christian Science services Sunday, December 20, 1953.
Keynoting the Lesson-Sermon is the Golden Text from Hebrews (1:10): "Thou, Lord, in the beginning hast laid the foundation of the earth; and the heavens are the works of thine hands." Among the passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will be the following:
"The true theory of the universe, including man, is not in material history but in spiritual development. Inspired thought relinquishes a material, sensual, and mortal theory of the universe, and adopts the spiritual and immortal." (547:25)
Passages to be read from the Bible include the following:
"For lo, he that formeth the mountains, and createth the wind, and declareth unto man what is his thought, that maketh the morning darkness, and treadeth upon the high places of the earth, The Lord, The God of hosts, is his name." (Amos 4:13)
LIVING COSTS
For the fifth consecutive month, living costs edged up a bit in the month ending in mid-October. The increase of two-tenths of one per cent during the month brought the index of the Bureau of Labor Statistics to another record high - 11.5 per cent of the 1947-49 average, or 1.1 per cent above a year ago.
