Mrs. Gobelman Attends DAR Grave Marking

Mrs. Mollie C. Gobelman of Plattsmouth drove to Spring Hill, Missouri, Sunday where she was invited by the Olive Prindle Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution of Chillicothe, Mo., to attend the marking of the grave of a real daughter of the American Revolutionary war, Mrs. Elizabeth Parman Girdner.

Mrs. Girdner was the daughter of Giles Parman, a sergeant in the war, and Mrs. Parman was the grandmother of the late Ivan S. White of Rock Bluff.

The program for marking the grave was held in the Methodist church at Spring Hill and was attended by two hundred people, many of whom were descendants still living in the community.

Other descendants from Kansas, Illinois, Iowa and Nebraska attended.

Mrs. E. O. Welch, regent of the Olive Prindle chapter, related to the history of the deceased; Joseph D. Stewart, postmaster of Chillicothe, gave the address, telling of the part the Girdner and White families had played in the early settlement of the area. David Girdner, a grandson, set the grave marker.

Mrs. Gobelman was a dinner guest at the home of Mrs. J. L. Francis and Mrs. George Campbell, real granddaughters of Mrs. Elizabeth Parman. Mrs. Gobelman is a direct descendant of Mrs. Parman from her great grandmother, Mary Girdner, mother of the late Ivan S. White. Mrs. Lucinda Girdner Johnson, who will be 100 years old June 10, also attended.
