Betts-Toman Rites Are Solemnized In California

NEHAWKA (Special) — Mrs. Hilbur Lundberg received word of the marriage of her grandson Roger Betts, son of Mrs. Anna Betts of Los Angeles, to Joyce Toman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Toman of Culver City, Calif., at the Gardena Methodist church, on February 6.

The bride was given away by her father, Henry Toman. Her sister, Mrs. Carl Greco, was matron of honor. The bridegroom's twin brother, Rodney, was best man. Reverend Wesley Pen officiated at the double ring ceremony. A reception was held at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Greco.

Mr. and Mrs. Betts are living in Maywood, Calif., where he works at an airplane factory. Mrs. Betts and her sons lived at Nehawka a few years ago and the boys attended Nehawka high school.

Louisville Couple Honored On Silver Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Ahl were honored at a silver anniversary reception at the Methodist church parlors at Louisville on Sunday, March 7. The event was held at 2:30 p.m.

Mr. and Mrs. Ahl, Mrs. Alice Renner, attendant at her sister's wedding 25 years ago, and Donald Ahl, son of the honorees, greeted guests at the door. One hundred sixty-five guests were present.

Unable to be present was Howard Lohnes of Seattle, Wash., a cousin of Mr. Ahl. Mr. Lohnes was attendant to his cousin at the wedding ceremony in 1929.

A program was arranged by Mrs. Clyde Ahl and Mrs. Harry Ahl. It included a solo, "O Promise Me" by Mrs. Earl Woodman; pantomime, "Dangerous Dan McGrew" by Ronald Ahl; and "This is Your Life" presentation emceed by Mrs. Harry Ahl. The skit brought out many interesting memories to Harold and Grayce Ahl of the 25-year period.

A solo, "Through the Years" by Mrs. Willis Rhoads, accompanied by Mrs. Wayne Gess, preceded a closing prayer by Rev. W. H. Halstead.

The serving table, covered with a white rayon cloth, and decorated at the sides with silver "25" inscription, was centered with a beautiful three-tier wedding cake, baked and decorated by Mrs. Forrest Engelkemier and Mrs. Elmer Johnson.

The cake was frosted in white and decorated with pink roses, green and silver leaves and the names "Harold and Grayce." A white bell with silver "25" inscribed topped the lovely cake, surrounded by huckleberry leaves, white and silver carnations and rose buds. Crystal candle holders with white and silver decorated candles flanked the cake. Silver service was used.

Mrs. Alice Renner assisted by Miss Joan Bull out and served the wedding cake. Mrs. Harold Rice, Mrs. Elmer Johnson, Mrs. Philip Hennings, Mrs. John Wegener, Mrs. Lloyd Group and Mrs. Ervin Albert had charge of refreshments. Mrs. Ervin Albert was in charge of the gifts and Mrs. Earl Woodman presided at the guest book.

Heart Is Not
Delicate Organ

Some people believed in the old superstition that the heart is a delicate organ but that has been proven false by scientific investigation.

Helen Becker, extension health specialist at the University of Nebraska, says the heart is actually a very tough muscle and an efficient machine. As proof of its power here are some of the things it does.

First of all the heart pumps something like 650,000 gallons of blood a year through about 12,000 miles of bloodways! That would undoubtedly require quite a sizeable amount of power.

The heart beats a hundred-thousand-or-so times a day, more than two billion beats in most lifetimes. During this period of times it also rests nearly 46 years in a lifetime. Your heart does all this!

Sees-Brown Wedding Rites Solemnized At Gordon

First Methodist church of Gordon was the setting on February 20 for the double ring wedding ceremony uniting Miss Rebecca Joann Sees of Gordon, and Larry Dale Brown of Louisville.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Sees of Gordon, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Brown of Louisville.

The Rev. Ben Wallace solemnized the rites of the wedding ceremony and Miss Betty Wallace sang "Because."

For her wedding, the bride wore a gray suit with navy blue accessories and a corsage of red roses. Miss Joan Rathburn, the bride's only attendant, wore a navy blue suit with pink accessories and a corsage of yellow carnations.

The groom was Fred Carper of Gordon, an army buddy of the groom.

Following the ceremony, about forty-five guests assembled for a reception at which Mrs. Horace Feathurst was in charge of the guest book; Mrs. Wallace Landon and Mrs. Otis Roger poured at a table centered with a three-tier wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom. Japanese iris and deep pink carnations completed the table decorations.

Mr. and Mrs. Brown are making their home at Gordon where Mrs. Brown is teaching this semester. They plan a belated wedding trip when school is out.

Willms-Dall Wedding Is Solemnized at Elkhorn

Bethany Lutheran church at Elkhorn, Neb., was the setting on Wednesday, March 3, for the marriage of Miss Margery Willms of Millard, and Mr. Frank P. Dall of Omaha. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Willms of Millard, and Mr. Dall is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Dall of Manley.

The Rev. T. E. Schroeder officiated at the double ring ceremony before an altar decorated with bouquets of jonquils, snapdragons and glorified iris and Candelabra. White satin bows and greenery marked the pews and pillars.

Mrs. Ben Akert, accompanied by Mrs. Burt Fallon, Jr., who played the wedding music, sang "I Love Thee" and "The Lord's Prayer," at the three o'clock afternoon ceremony attended by 200 guests.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of imported French lace over bridal satin. Her fitted bodice featured long sleeves that tapered to points at the wrist and a yoke of French tulle finished with a lace ruffle appliqued with opalescent sequins. The graceful lace skirt terminated in a cathedral train, and her double illusion lace edged veil fell from a lace half hat.

Mrs. Robert McCordie, sister of the bride, was matron of honor and wore a yellow gown with double net skirt featuring an imported lace strapless bodice and lace jacket. Her headress was a triple band tiara with hairline veil. She carried a bouquet of jonquils and glorified iris.

Mrs. William Petersen of Millard and Mrs. Merrill Finney of Manley, wearing identical gowns and headresses of peacock blue, were bridesmaids. They carried bouquets of jonquils. Junior bridesmaids wore gowns of blue tulle and carried jonquil bouquets. They were Fern Jean Willms of Hamburg, Ia., and Susan Willms of Millard, nieces of the bride.

Flower girl was Miss Sandra Willms, who was gowned in yellow tulle with white nylon trimming. Candelighters were Alice Mae and Arthur Willms of Hamburg, Ia.

Verne F. Willms of Millard, brother of the bride, was best man. Ushers were Robert McArdle of Elkhorn and Merrill Finney of Manley.

At a reception held at the church parlors following the ceremony, Mrs. William Willms, Mrs. Orville Willms, Mrs. Irvin

Krause, Miss Audrey Rosaker, Evelyn McArdle, Anne Glandt, Mrs. Joe Glover and Mrs. Ray Mann assisted Hostess Mrs. Elmer Sues of Elkhorn.

For a short wedding trip the bride wore a navy blue suit with navy and pink accessories and an orchid corsage. Mr. and Mrs. Dall will reside at 818 North Elm street, Wahoo, Nebr.

A graduate of Plattsmouth high school and the University of Nebraska where he was affiliated with Sigma Tau and Sigma IX fraternities, Mr. Dall is employed by the Corps of Engineers at Omaha.

Mrs. Dall graduated from Elkhorn high school, attending Midland college and is a primary teacher in Ithaca, Nebr.

Domestic Rabbit
Cooking Hints
Are Offered

The mild-flavored meat of the domestic rabbit is quite different from that of the game wild rabbit.

Ethel Diehrichson, extension food and nutrition specialist at the University of Nebraska, says that domestic rabbit is increasingly available in meat markets throughout the year in ready-to-cook form—fresh and frozen.

Many homemakers who have never tried to cook rabbit might use it more often if they had more varied recipes available. A new booklet on rabbit cooking has been prepared by foods specialists at the U. S. Department of Agriculture. It is based on new experimental work with cooking the young "fryer" rabbits that are currently gaining favor.

"Fryer" is the market name given to rabbits 8 to 12 weeks old. Their weight ready-to-cook ranges from 1 1/2 pounds to about 3 1/2. The smallest weighing 1 1/2 to 2 pounds, may be fried satisfactorily, in much the same way as chicken, say the home economists. These smallest rabbits may also be stewed and the meat used in recipes, similar to cooked chicken dishes.

"Roaster" is the trade name for older rabbits. Usually these weigh over 4 pounds and are 8 months or older. The roasters, and also the larger fryer rabbits, need long, slow cooking in a covered pan to make them tender. Best methods of cooking them are stewing—that is, simmering in a small amount of water—and braising, which calls for first browning the meat in a little fat and then cooking it slowly, with or without added liquid on top of the range or in the oven. Liquid used in braising may be a sauce that adds flavor to the dish.

Miss Diehrichson tells us that single copies of the booklet, "Ways to Cook Rabbit," are available. General cooking directions and about 20 recipes are contained in the booklet. This may be obtained free of charge, from the Office of Information, U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D. C.

Color Often 1st
When Women
Select Clothing

LINCOLN, NEB.—The spring-like weather that Nebraskans have been enjoying has turned the thoughts of women to new spring outfits.

Gerda Peterson, extension clothing specialist at the University of Nebraska, says the choice of color comes first many times when women choose clothing. Many times color will attract a woman to an outfit before she notices the cut line or fabric. Here are a few rules to observe in planning a color scheme.

The main parts of a costume (dress, suit, or coat) will usually be a subdued tone with brighter tones for small areas, such as hats, bags, gloves, blouses, etc. One color should dominate a costume, but there may be varying amounts of other colors to add variety. There should be a repetition of these colors in the costume to create a rhythmic effect.

If the dominate color scheme is of warm tones, there should be accents of cool colors; if the dominate colors are cool, there should be accents of warm. A costume should also have some colors that are light in value and some that are dark in value to give contrast and character.
