

CLASS WILL

(From The Platter)

Know all men by these presents: That we, the Superiors of 1954 of the Plattsmouth High School, City of Plattsmouth, Nebraska, being of stout hearts and sound, sensible minds, do now graciously bestow and bequeath these honors; we do declare this to be our last will and testament, hereby revoking any will or wills heretofore made by us.

I, Ray Adkins, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to have six daughters and one son in the matter of one day to Roland Schroeder to overcome his bashfulness.

I, John Albin, do hereby will and bequeath the name "Bugs" back to the rabbits where it originated.

I, Pat Bailey, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to beat the bass drum harder and louder (even though not on beat) to Nancy and Paul who already have a good start.

I, Deloris Beins, do hereby will and bequeath Jon Schuetz to myself for ever and ever.

I, Elina Bomber, do hereby will and bequeath my slowness to Jay Dee Druecker who needs it. I, Edith Brittain, do hereby will and bequeath my fascinating laugh to anyone who can cope with it.

I, Pat Brown, do hereby will and bequeath my "come hither" eyes to anyone who wants them.

I, Dale Bruns, do hereby will and bequeath my car duals to anyone willing to drive around town with them on their car.

I, Duane Burbee, do hereby will and bequeath my interest in older girls to Mike Shellenbarger.

I, Bill Burch, do hereby will and bequeath my bigness and roughness to Bob McKulsky.

I, Janice Caldwell, do hereby will and bequeath my book of unabridged Shakespeare to next year's English IV class.

I, Gary Campbell, do hereby will and bequeath my ability as a "pink-tongued ham" to Herman Weber.

I, Harold Demaree, do hereby will and bequeath my nickname "Dingleberry" to Denny Hinz as he is so fond of it and its suits him so well.

I, George Ebersole, do hereby will and bequeath my "shocking kisses" to Charolette Marler.

I, Barney Eiting, do hereby will and bequeath my front desk in English IV back to myself because I'll probably still be taking it next year.

I, Dale Elledge, do hereby will and bequeath my Wednesday nights back to the Navy.

I, Fred Emmert, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to read books in Government class to anyone who wants to try it.

I, Jack Farris, do hereby will and bequeath Nola back to myself for future reference.

I, Larry Fauquet, do hereby will and bequeath my nickname "Fearless" back to Fosdick.

I, Wayne Feldhausen, do hereby will and bequeath my interest in girls (??) to Grover Cundall who doesn't need it.

I, Byron Finnefrock, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to peel skins off of baloney to Banjo who "throws" a lot of it.

I, Shirley Fitch, do hereby will and bequeath my short stature to Mr. Floyd, who'd probably look funny, but oh, well.

I, Peggy Frans, do hereby will and bequeath Cliff Rogers to a certain girl with the initials P. F.

I, Sally Fulton, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to drive a "53" Buick to a certain girl who wished she could.

I, Dick Glaze, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to look older than I really am to the freshmen boys.

I, Helen Gunsolley, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to skip 6th period to all the athletes of PHS.

I, Alice Haas, do hereby will and bequeath my typing eraser to Miss Coulter from whom I borrowed it at the beginning of the school term.

I, Eleanor Haden, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to "butcher the bull" to all those who throw it.

I, Carol Henney, do hereby will and bequeath my seat in English IV to anyone who's "educated" enough to keep it.

I, Evelyn Henry, do hereby will and bequeath my first place in the Senior class to my little sister.

I, Valeria Holman, do hereby will and bequeath my quietness to Loren Haase, who needs it.

I, Bill Hoschar, do hereby will and bequeath my good nature to next year's Junior class when banquet and prom time comes.

I, Don Hutchinson, do hereby will and bequeath my dad's gas truck to all boys going steady for their "date" drives in the country with their one and only.

I, Jim Jacques, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to have seven girls serenade me at 6:00 in the morning to anyone who'd like the opportunity.

I, Bette Janecek, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to go steady for over a year to anyone who has the nerve to try it.

I, Janet Kalasek, do hereby will and bequeath a certain Iowa boy to myself for safe keeping.

I, Elaine Kaslon, do hereby will and bequeath my quietness to Joanne Koubek.

I, Ramona Kelsey, do hereby will and bequeath my height to next year's basketball team.

I, Charles Kerns, do hereby will and bequeath my navy uniform to anyone that thinks they're man enough to wear it.

I, Wanda Little, do hereby will and bequeath my books to anyone who likes to study.

I, Gail Martin, do hereby will and bequeath my accent back home and may it rest in peace.

I, Beverly Meisinger, do hereby will and bequeath my typing ability to any "all-thumbs" person.

I, Yvonne Nelson, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to stay out of trouble to all "school-skipppers."

I, Ella Mary Nelsen, do hereby will and bequeath my "steady-life" to some girl who'll probably not have one.

I, Lorna Nierste, do hereby will and bequeath my batone to Miss Roessler to flog her future English IV students with.

I, Mary O'Donnell, do hereby will and bequeath myself to the WAF's for the next three years.

I, Leslie O'Neal, do hereby will and bequeath all the used bubble gum that I stuck under the chairs in some of my classes to anyone who wants to chew it.

I, Pat Painter, do hereby will and bequeath my voice back to the frogs.

I, Larry Pierce, do hereby will and bequeath my happy home life to anyone not fortunate to have one.

I, Joan Pink, do hereby will and bequeath all my books to the underclassmen and hope they do no more with them than I did.

I, Jacki Rasmussen, do hereby will and bequeath all the cats at my house to Mike's house.

I, Jackie Reno, do hereby will and bequeath my old shoes to next year's marching band.

I, Doug Rohlf, do hereby will and bequeath all the "dough" I've worked with back to the mill.

I, Phyllis Schiessl, do hereby will and bequeath my pettiness to Jeannine Newton.

I, John Schreiner, do hereby will and bequeath myself to Dee to do with as she pleases.

I, Fred Seybold, do hereby will and bequeath my double-jointed arms and freak characteristics to the beloved Bill Weaver.

I, Tommy Shown, do hereby will and bequeath my Southern accent back to the south.

I, Anita Spidell, do hereby will and bequeath my "tomboy" ways to Jeanie Wiess who's so lady-like.

I, Larry Stones, do hereby will and bequeath my nicknames "Rocky" back to the mountains.

I, Shirley Strough, do hereby will and bequeath my slow, quiet way to all the "cut-ups" of PHS.

I, Barbara Sullivan, do hereby will and bequeath my interest in the "center" of the basketball team to Carol Avis.

I, Pat Todd, do hereby will and bequeath my big brown eyes to anyone who likes big, brown eyes.

I, Margaret Toman, do hereby will and bequeath my height to Sally Amato.

I, Loren Topliff, do hereby will and bequeath myself to anyone who wants me.

I, Larry Vallery, do hereby will and bequeath my car to "Smiley Kraeger."

I, Van White, do hereby will and bequeath my blond hair to all the peroxide blondes who want it.

I, Ruby Wilson, do hereby will and bequeath my shortness to Sally Quinnett.

I, Lyle Wood, do hereby will and bequeath my bachelorhood to all the steady guys that want it.

I, Tom Zastera, do hereby will and bequeath my dead body to next year's Biology class.

The Senior class, as a whole, wills Miss Whalen and Mr. Robinson to all the future classes at Plattsmouth high school, in the hopes that they will lead them to bigger and better things.

The Senior class just plain leaves.

This will has been duly signed and witnessed by the members of the Senior class, and its officers on this 17th day of May, in the year of our Lord, nineteen hundred and fifty-four in the aforesaid mentioned City of Plattsmouth, and in the High School heretofore mentioned.
