

Ted Hadraba, Foreign Service Advisor, Visiting

Ted Hadraba, son of retired druggist Joseph F. Hadraba, has arrived in Plattsmouth for a two week visit with his father, his sister, Mrs. Don Cotner, and other relatives and friends.

On this particular visit, Ted has come from Maxwell Air Force Base, Alabama, where his father had visited last winter. He has been there since August, 1953, as state department advisor on the staff of the United States Air War College, highest educational institution in the Air Force, with an annual class of about 150 specially selected air force full colonels and equivalent rank from other services.

Hadraba graduated from Plattsmouth high school in 1925, and from Northwestern University in 1929. He is near the top in his profession as a career foreign service officer. He has held posts abroad at Prague, Czechoslovakia; Brussels, Belgium; Bern, Switzerland; and Ankara, Turkey. His current assignment is his third state-side tour of duty since he entered the Foreign Service.

At Ankara, he served four years as economic counselor at the American embassy. He has been listed in Who's Who since 1952.

Mrs. Hadraba and son, Teddy, did not accompany Mr. Hadraba on this occasion, but are spending the summer in Switzerland with her mother.

Rotarians Hear Austrian Exchange Student Tuesday

Heinz R. Schreiner, exchange student from Vienna, Austria, outlined his views before Plattsmouth Rotarians and Rotary Anns Tuesday night of America.

Heinz, a teacher at the University of Nebraska with a master degree in chemistry, explained that America is a grand place in which to live, and that few Americans actually appreciate it.

I. L. Kocian, president during the past year, presided at his last meeting which was held at Holy Rosary church.

Guests at the evening dinner meeting in addition to Rotary Anns were Mrs. Wm. Marbaker, daughter of Robert Cappell; Mrs. Lyle Copmann, daughter of George Conis; and Burton Gleason and Miss Barbara Reddington, guests of Walt Gleason.
