CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERVICES

The ability, power, and sinless perfection which characterizes man's real nature in God's likeness will be brought out at Christian Science services Sunday.

The Lesson-Sermon entitled "Man" includes the following passages from the King James Version of the Bible (Ephesians 4:7, 13):

"But unto every one of us is given grace according to the measure of the gift of Christ. Till we all come in the unity of the faith, and of the knowledge of the Son of God, unto a perfect man, unto the measure of the stature of the fulness of Christ."

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, the following passage will be among those read (258:21): "The human capacities are enlarged and perfected in proportion as humanity gains the true conception of man and God."

The Golden Text is from Genesis (1:27): "God created man in his own image, in the image of God created he him."

Bible Comment:

The Gospel Can Be a Way of Life

The nature of a man's daily life is not determined by accident or chance, or by the circumstances and happenings of the day, unless one's character be so weak as to be subject to every passing mood or influence. It is true that some annoying incident of the day may lead to outbursts of ill-temper, or arouse feelings of hatred, envy or jealousy. But what one does, in the long run, if life has any real worth, is determined by what one is. Character lies back of every thought and deed. It was thus that Jesus stated it again and again, thus fulfilling the religion of the Old Testament saints and prophets, which He said He had not come to destroy but to fulfill.

In the Gospel there is the word of life, the revelation of God's love and grace; the gift of God, which is eternal life.

In the Gospel there are the words of guidance for living, set forth in the teachings even as in the examples set by the Master. In the Gospel there is the inspiration and incentive in the promise of power, the infowing of a divine help that uplifts and strengthens human weakness, the experience that St. Paul meant when he said, "My strength is made perfect in weakness."

To know the Gospel, to live from day to day in the records of what Jesus said and did, is to discover the Gospel in all its reality and power.

When such knowledge is available to all of us, how can we fail to make the Gospel a way of daily life?

How can we fail to take advantage of Jesus' promise of a more abundant life?

How can we fail to take advantage of Jesus' promise of a more abundant life?

How can we fail to take advantage of Jesus' promise of a more abundant life?

Step-on waste cans are convenient but demand pay for their labors in a little attention from the kitchen cook.

This hardworking member of the kitchen family is often neglected, says Clara Leopold, extension home management specialist at the University of Nebraska. All it asks in return of its efforts is to be popped into your soapy dish water for a daily bath after you've finished the dishes.

The inner pail should be frequently washed. Don't overlook the outside occasionally, and especially the lid. Very often food scraps push up against the inside of the lid, causing unpleasant odors and possible rusting.

UNITY - A MUST IN RELIGION

That Christ teaches and demands unity among his disciples no informed person will deny. "That they may all be one" was his prayer for us in John 17:21.

We are besought by Paul "that ye all speak the same thing, and that there be no divisions among you; out that ye be perfected together in the same mind and the same judgment." 1 Cor. 1:10.

We are individually accountable. If we walk in a diverted state, or worship and serve in a diverse manner, it is ours to quit it, find and occupy common ground, where unity with every other Christian is possible. There is such ground—IT IS BIBLE GROUND—and no one can be pleasing to God who will not stand thereon.

Organizations, creeds, innovations and substitutions, doctrines, names and additions have robbed us of that which was so good and pleasant. "It is no marvel the world believes not!" The Lord prayed, "That they may be perfected together into one. That the world may know that thou didst send me." His prayer has been forgotten.

"Thus saith Jehovah, Stand ye in the ways and see, and ask for the old paths, where is the good way, and walk therein and you will find rest for your souls." Jeremiah 6:16.
