Bible Comment:
We Should Heed Fact of All-Seeing Eye
NOTHING stands out more strongly from the Hebrew Scriptures of the Old Testament than the fact of God's all-seeing Eye.
The Eye is symbolic of the presence and judgments of God as He observes the actions of men and discerns between right and wrong.
The Psalmist expressed it in terse and memorable words: "Whither shall I go from Thy spirit? Or whither shall I flee from Thy presence? If I ascend up into heaven, Thou art there; if I make my bed in hell; behold, Thou art there. The darkness and the light are both alike to Thee."
The consciousness of that presence filled, and should fill today, thoughtful men with awe. That inexorable Eye upon them quickened a sense of fear. "The fear of the Lord," one wrote, "is the beginning of wisdom." There is much in the old Testament concerning the fear of God.
Thus, they prayed, "Search me, O God, and know my heart; try me and know my thoughts; and see if there be any wicked way in me, and lead me in the way everlasting."
It takes courage, as well as knowledge and faith, to make a prayer like that. But the judgments of God have a meaning and significance beyond individual character and conduct. A world without judgment would be a world without moral sanctions.
To whatever heights man may aspire, he can have no higher aspiration than to reach that spiritual peak upon which he may stand and say: "Judge me, O God."
