Grapefruit Goes Green For St. Pat's!

If you insist on the wearin' o' the green on March 17, start right at the table, by serving this Erin version of grapefruit as a meal starter. Here a small molded lime gelatine shamrock shimmers atop the golden sections of the fruit. A wonderfully tart half FOR SALE—15 ft. disc with 18" of grapefruit is the best appetizer possible, from the standpoint blades, real good, wire tied of whetting your appetite for the rest of the meal, and also being baled wheat straw. New Idea | the sort of thing the doctor recommends, high in vitamin C which

Your grapefruit itself may even fit into the color scheme for 32-1tc the holiday—this time of year oranges and grapefruit down south sometimes show green on their outer surfaces, just the result of chlorophyll (the substance you're now enthusing about in toothpaste and chewing gum) coming along with the bloom for next year's crop. Don't be misled if the fruit in your market has green tinges—all fruit shipped is inspected before it's picked and must be mature before it leaves the groves.

To Prepare Grapefruit Halves Cut fruit in half; remove core if desired. Cut around each section, loosening fruit from membrane. Do not cut around entire outer edge of fruit. Serve plain or with any desired topping.
