Easter Egg Hunt Yields Prizes

Last Friday evening members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce assembled in the kitchen at the C. C. A. where they colored and decorated many dozens of eggs. On Saturday all these brightly colored eggs were hidden in the city park. At 2 o'clock sharp a crowd of wide-eyed youngsters had gathered and were anxiously awaiting the command to start hunting them. At the shout of go! the littles from toddlers up to six years old on one end of the park and the children from six to twelve at the other, they all scurried to find all the eggs they could.

At the close of the hunt prizes were awarded. Leary Erhart won the prize for finding the largest amount of eggs, which was sixteen. Six eggs were worth a dollar each.

Those lucky enough to find eggs were Karen Eidenmiller, Terry Doyle, Joyce Domingo, Sandra Baker, Terry Mather and Jerry Dungan.

There were also six eggs worth 75c each. Lucky finders were Richard Lauritzen, Mary Louise Deitmer (2), Steven Cooper and Rich and Jim Stratton.

Nobody left the park empty handed because candy bars were passed out among all the children present.

Arvin Patton, Farley Amick and Lloyd Sudduth were in charge at the egg hunt.

The Chamber of Commerce and the Junior Chamber of Commerce made this fun filled afternoon possible for the children of Weeping Water.

At the end of 1954, consumer credit stood at a high of $30-125,000,000. That figure does not include home mortgage loans which soared to a record-shattering $75,600,000,000. In January, 1955, it dropped to $29,700,000,000 but it was still the highest for any January and $960,000,000 above the year earlier figure. Installment buying accounted for the major part of consumer credit.
