HELPFUL FRIEND

GARDEN CITY, N. Y. — Because his friend wanted to board a non-stop train, Alvin Hernon obligingly lay himself down on a Long Island Railroad track and stayed there until a frantic motorist halted his electric train just 20 feet away. Hernon arose, dusted himself off, and said to his unidentified friend, "Okay, there's the train." He later admitted to a judge that he had visited several taverns prior to his "helpful act."

It happens to the best of us

Mayor Leo Meisinger ran out of gas with his pickup at 5th and Main. It was tough but he had to hoof it over to the gas pumps at his station and get a can of gas to get the truck load of merchandise over to the store.

Needs yardstick

Sheriff Thomas S. Solomon finally completed the cabinet his wife has been wanting him to make. With justifiable pride he called the little woman and they carried it up the steps—but it wouldn't go through the door and so he had to disassemble it and carry it in; then reassemble.

His biggest deal of the season is his current fish story. He had Wynn Babbitt, dove out a hole in the property the sheriff has at the south side of the Platte river bridge. Seepage from the river filled it with water—now, Tom's story is that there are fish in there and that they got there by being forced up through the sand from the river by water pressure. Eight and ten pound fish, according to this legend, come shooting up out of the sand and fall into the pond—all you need to fish at the sheriff's resort is a first basement.

It pays to advertise

In the old days Cliff and Hilt Wescott had a yellow slicker on a stand they would push out in front of the store on a rainy day in hopes of getting some impulse buyers of slickers. George Smith, their successor has a new angle. The other day he was walking east on main street in the rain wearing a plastic raincoat with the price tag showing on his shoulders.

They took the time

Hiatt Furniture and Grove Jewelry had some splendid windows relative to the Easter season. Hiatts featured the true spirit of Easter with a green background, a Bible and a Cross. Grove had two cute little bunnies in a dainty little Easter setting. The displays created a number of comments on Main Street and were worth the effort they cost.

Prison Falloer?

Joe Zastera got one of the parking tickets last week for parking in the vicinity of the fire house. This one had hair on it because it cost him $5.00 total. You can really get in trouble at one of those fireman's conventions, Joe m'boy, you'd best go straight home.

The passing scene

Doc Amato walking up the alley, and noticing Bill Schmidtman up on the roof sprinkling water on it with a garden hose, asking, "Have you a garden up there Buster?" The violets blooming along the walk south of the library. Kids playing marbles on the parking south of the courthouse... Spring is here at last!

Civil Service Steno, Typist Lists at Offutt

Federal Civil Service lists of eligibles for stenographer and typist jobs in the Omaha area are now to be maintained by the Office of the U. S. Civil Service Examiners, 404 Post Office, Omaha, Nebraska. That office has announced an examination for these jobs with tests to be held at Omaha, Fremont and Council Bluffs post offices.

Jobs paying $2950 a year in Federal agencies in Omaha and surrounding counties will be filled from these lists which heretofore were kept in the Ninth U. S. Civil Service Regional Office, St. Louis, Missouri. Local handling will permit faster referrals when jobs are open. Under the new Federal appointment system, persons hired can acquire "career" status in the Civil Service after 3 years.

Application forms and further information about these exams can be obtained at post offices.

National Guard Alert Operation Set for April-May

Mrs. Grace Plybon Phone 4-2247

Mrs. Grover Hill is in Bryan hospital at this time and not doing so well at present.

Boys from here found Boys State at Plattsmouth a profitable and enjoyable day. Duane Krecklow was the National Guard units of Nebraska, Army and Air, will participate. No other military service or law enforcement agency will be involved.

On purpose of Operation Minuteman is to fully acquaint the American public with the capabilities and missions of the Army and Air National Guard. The test mobilization will also indicate to the Army and the Air Force just how rapidly the Army and Air National Guard can be mobilized on short notice and be effective in an emergency.

The Adjutant General for Nebraska, Major General Guy N. Henninger, stated that all active National Guardsmen would be expected to participate. Approximately 3600 Guardsmen, Army and Air, will be called to duty during this test emergency alert. There are National Guard units in 30 communities throughout the State. If the test mobilization is scheduled for a week day, it will be conducted in the evening. Air will not interfere with the civilian occupations of the Guardsmen. The mobilization time and date will be kept a secret until that hour. The announcement will be made at that hour and all National Guardsmen will be contacted and the alerts formed as rapidly as possible.

The most expeditious method of contacting Guardsmen is by Telephone. However, every method of communication will be used. Radio and television announcements Theater will flash the announcement on their screens. All group gatherings where Guardsmen may be involved will be contacted and urged to make the alert announcement. All of the conditions of an emergency alert will be simulated.

Elmwood Spring Festival Enjoyed

It was an outstanding event when the music department of the High School presented the Spring Music Festival at the Community Building on Wednesday, April 13. There were mixed chorus numbers, a Boys' Glee Club, Trio, vocal and Triple Trio numbers. Solos were presented by Donna Miller, Mary Lou Hall, Martha Stolz, Carolyn Spohn, Clark Marshall. There was a vocal and piano duet, Iva Kay Irons played a piano solo, and Merwinna Kampman a violin number. It is pleasing to have this violinist who has studied much, and to have the assistance of Marjorie Clements as accompanist who has many of the students in her music classes both instrumental and vocal. Mrs. Godbey and several girls were piano accompanists too.

Mrs. Godbey, director, is especially efficient in leadership. The numbers are being presented at the Peru contest, except the closing anthem which brought in the sacred element "God So Loved the World". The response of the large audience showed the acclaim.

Mrs. Sanford Clements is in Kansas City making the acquaintance of her new grandson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Clements.

Darlene Plunket, who was recently married at Weeping Water Methodist church, was formerly a pupil in the Elmwood school.

TURN ABOUT'S FAIR PLAY

SHERMAN, Texas — Sometime ago Mrs. Roy Good gave some of her husband's old clothes to a charity organization here. Recently, the Good's home was destroyed in a windstorm and one of those given clothing by the organization was storm victim Roy Good.

KISS WORTH FINE?

OMAHA — When police saw Mason D. Wagner, 24, kiss his fiancée while driving his car, they decided it constituted reckless driving and, in traffic court, later, Wagner was fined $15 and costs. Court officers were surprised when Wagner's fiancée stepped up and paid the fine.

Cass Retail Sales Index Up Over '54

A "not-too-reassuring" picture is painted by Nebraska's retail sales figures for February, according to the April issue of Business in Nebraska.

All the major cities except four—Omaha, Lincoln, Hastings and Nebraska City—"were considerably down from last year." And all cities, except Omaha and Lincoln, "showed every single line of retail trade decreasing except dairies and other miscellaneous food."

The bulletin, prepared by the University of Nebraska's Department of Business Research, College of Business Administration, reported that building continued high and cold weather brought gas consumption up.

Cass county's February retail sales index for March was up 8.4 percent of February 1954 and 0.9 percent of January, 1955.
