

Heart Fund Award Goes to Journal For Campaign Help

The Nebraska Heart Association today paid tribute to the newspaper industry for its support, and announced awards to individual papers.

Dr. Frederick G. Gillick, president, said, "We wish to publicly express our appreciation to Nebraska newspapers for their support of the Heart Fund Drive and our year-round programs of Research, Education and Community Service."

He praised the newspaper industry for its share in helping to increase Heart Fund contributions almost $60,000 over last year's total. Approximately $117,000 has been collected.

President Gillick announced that 40 weeklies and semi-weeklies, and seven dailies are being honored with certificates for making the most outstanding contributions to the Heart cause.

Special Certificates with gold seals affixed were awarded to the top nine weeklies and the best three dailies.

Leading the weeklies was the Red Cloud Commercial-Advertiser, followed by The Dawson County Herald, Minden Courier, Cumming County Democrat, Plattsmouth Journal, Bridgeport News-Blade, Ashland Gazette, Custer County Chief, and Douglas County Gazette.

The top dailies were the Omaha World-Herald, North Platte Telegraph-Bulletin, and Hastings Tribune.

Other five dailies selected were, in rank order: Norfolk Daily News, Alliance Times-Herald, Holdrege Citizen, and Scottsbluff Star-Herald.

Suit Is Appealed To District Court

A decision on a damage suit by the Cass county court has been appealed to the district court.

The suit was brought by Lyle L. Ladd against Richard Rhoades in which damages in the amount of $302.68 was asked following an intersection traffic accident in Plattsmouth in August, 1954. The case was dismissed in county court and now has been appealed by Ladd.

Time Flies

Rex Young, well known local auctioneer, has sold about everything at sometime or other. He hit a new high the other day when he sold a stuffed possum for 40c. Rex says he has sold about everything except a coffin. He is planning a trip to Excelsior Hot Springs, Mo., in the each year, for rest and relaxation in future. He takes this trip in which is a vigorous career. He is out in all kinds of weather, in temperatures ranging from 105 to 15 below.

What Next?

Bob White has gone from the pigeon business into the rabbit business. Junior Stander tells of visiting Bob and his rabbits, and seeing Bob pick up one end of a cardboard tube from a roll of linoleum. The rabbits came pouring out of the tube like water out of a fire hose.

Good Boys

Fred Busch tells of a salesman who told him that he thought Plattsmouth had the most obliging police in the midwest. It seems that he ran out of gas here late at night. The police stopped to help him, called a local service station owner out of bed to get gas—gave him a push to get the car started. This fellow is giving Plattsmouth and its police force a good word wherever he goes.

WED AFTER 53 YEARS HOLLYWOOD, Calif. — Tom Kilshaw and Polly Shuttleworth Chapin, whose romance began in 1907 were recently married. The two were childhood sweethearts in England but lost track of one another when Kilshaw went to Canada. Each married another in the meantime. Last Christmas Kilshaw received a card from a friend with Polly's address on it. The plane carrying the card crashed and Kilshaw almost didn't get it, but it finally arrived, water-stained and battered. Kilshaw went to Palo Alto, where Polly now a widow was living and the romance was on again. Both are now 68.

218 Present Elmwood High Alumni Feed

ELMWOOD (Special)—A total of 218 persons passed in line as the Methodist W. S. C. S. served the plates for the annual Elmwood high school alumni banquet here May 28 at the Community building.

The hall was decorated with festoons interspersed with long balloons.

Assisting in table waiting were the mothers of 12 graduates who became alumni members. The 1955 class was seated at a special table.

Assisted by Noel Tyson of Cambridge, Sanford Clements was song leader and Daisy Moore was pianist. Clark Marshall sang "Davy Crockett" in costume. The traditional "She Wore a Yellow Ribbon" closed the group singing.

Theme of the program was "The Circus" and decorations and favors were in accord.

President Glen Miller introduced the ringmaster LaMoyne Spohn, a member of the 25-year honor class.

Wm. Atchison gave the welcome to the class. His topic was "Big Top." After reminiscing about early circus days, he told of other big tops he had visited in various parts of the world, including the arena at Rome.

Donna Doebele responded for the class of '55, her subject being, "The Greatest Show on Earth."

Representing the honor class of 1930 was Berdena Rosenow Koehler, her topic being "Trap-eze." Harry Lefler represented the 50-year honor class, with the topic "Side Shows." He told of Elmwood in the old days, the building and streets and the many pleasures on the side.

Joan Baackemeyer and Merwina Kampman entertained with a duet with action and old time costumes. Opal Clements, accompanist.

Spencer Leger, who was superintendent here for 14 years, used the subject "Lion Tamer."

Retiring officers are Glen Miller, president; Kenneth West, vice president; Mrs. Geo. Moomsey, secretary; and Merle Miller, treasurer. In same order new officers are Chester Bornemeier, Frank Turner, Mrs. Raymond Bornemeier and Richard Kuehn. Barrion Jackman of the 1930 class was here this year.

Mr. and Mrs. Leger now live in Lincoln as does another former superintendent, Harland Taylor, who gave a short talk.

The Chrysler Corporation recently reported that its first quarter earnings in 1955 were greater than earnings for the full year of 1954.

Lions Stretch Out Blind Broom Sales

Dr. Ryan, president of the Plattsmouth Lions Club, has announced that the broom and mat sale as sponsored by the Lions will be continued through this week. Rain and conflicting activities curtailed the promotion last Thursday and Friday evenings.

The brooms are made by the Arkansas Light House for the Blind, Little Rock, Ark. All quality merchandise, the brooms are made available to Lion's clubs. Blind people depend upon this work for their livelihood. The only available means of distribution is through the Lion's clubs, whose nation-wide project is to help the blind, thus the slogan "Help the Lions to Help the Blind. Buy a Broom."

Nebraska Blind, through the Nebraska Service for the Blind, Lincoln, provide the mats. These mats provide a source of activity, of independence, of livelihood for our blind folks of Nebraska.

Prices of the above articles are: industrial brooms, $1.95; household brooms, $1.50; whisk brooms, 75 cents; toy brooms, 75 cents; large mats, $3.25; and small mats, $2.50. The Lions will be calling at your house.
