Insist on Modern, Adequate Wiring!

Four out of five of today's homes—even many new ones—don't have enough HOUSEPOWER to take care of their electrical needs. Poor wiring keeps people from adding equipment and appliances they badly need and want. In most cases, it prevents them from satisfactorily using even the appliances they have.

"Octopus" outlets are only one symbol of out-dated wiring. Appliances that take forever to heat up, blackouts, flickering TV pictures, slow-operating appliances—all mean overloaded wiring. But you don't have to put up with these annoyances or struggle along without the modern living comforts you want.

It's easy to incorporate a modern Adequate Wiring System into your plans for Better Living... Electrically! Consult with your own ELECTRICAL CONTRACTOR and let him make recommendations for a wiring system for your home that will adequately and efficiently take care of your needs of today, and of tomorrow as well. You really can't afford to be without Adequate Wiring...
