HYDRANT MISSING

DALLAS, Texas — Police are not only looking for the motorist who, failing to make a turn at a high rate of speed, smashed into a hydrant, shearing it off at the ground, but they are also looking for the hydrant. It seems that the driver, after hitting the hydrant, got out of the car, inspected the damage, drove around the block, stopped and then loaded the hydrant into his car and drove off.

Let's all work together and make our campaign bigger and better!
