Union High's Class Play Draws Many

UNION (Special)—The senior class of Union High School presented its play last Thursday and Friday evenings at the Legion Hall to a fine crowd. The play was a mystery play entitled "The Black Derby."

Cast of characters:
Ted Bronson, the son, Larry Cook; Jane Bronson, the daughter, Francine Jones; Tom Randall, a college boy, Robert Atterbury; Betty Kay, a society girl, Myrna Wolfe; Mrs. Benlow, the housekeeper, Nola Keene; Cora Kipper, the maid, Janice Mead; John, the caretaker and chauffeur, Norman Beccard; Micky, nobody special, Ted McClane; Wimple, a detective, Mike Roddy.

The young people are all to be congratulated on the way they handled their parts. They really had the audience "mystified" on how Mike Paddy lost his coat and black derby.
Edwin Wolfe played between acts. The seniors presented their sponsor, Superintendent Carey with a gift. Ted McClane made the presentation.
