Jeannette M. Schoeppner Joins Doil Dean Knight in Marriage

LOUISVILLE (Special) — Jeannette Marie Schoeppner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Schoeppner, of Louisville and Doil Dean Knight, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Knight of Carroll, Iowa, were married at the St. Patrick Church in Manley, Saturday.

Father Lawrence Schoeppner, uncle of the bride from Owens, Iowa, officiated at the 10:30 a. m. ceremony in the presence of 150 guests.

Music was furnished by organist Mrs. Regina Colbert and the choir.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white ballerina length gown of French imported chantilly lace and nylon tulle over heavy bridal satin, with a sculptured bodice, featuring a regal stand-up collar of lace and illusion yoke, outlined in scallops of lace. The long sleeves tapered to points over the wrists. Her fingertip veil was of silk illusion with coronet of lace outlined with pearls.

JoAnn Schoeppner of LeSeur, Minn., served as maid of honor and Louise Jannings of Carroll, Iowa, was bridesmaid. Their dresses were of light blue, ballerina length with fitted bodices, full skirts of net over taffeta. They each carried a colonial bouquet of yellow carnations.

Richard Schoeppner of Louisville was best man; ushers were Don Mosman and Bernard Jannings of Carroll, Iowa and Gary Schoeppner of LeSeur, Minn.

A one o'clock breakfast was served at the Legion Club which was decorated in garden flowers. All girls who graduated this spring from Louisville High School, classmates of the bride, wearing pastel dresses and light blue aprons, served the reception guests.

The bride chose a blue suit for her traveling costume. The couple will live at 18th and Burch, Carroll, Iowa. The bridegroom graduated from the Carroll High School and is employed at a manufacturing company there.

Marie Elizabeth Toman Weds Virgil L. Hammons on Sunday

Marie Elizabeth Toman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Toman of Murray and Virgil Lee Hammons, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Hammons of Fair Play, Mo., were married at the Christian Church at Murray Sunday.

Approximately 200 guests attended the double ring ceremony officiated by Rev. Robert Larson.

Urns of white gladioli and greenery atop satin draped pedestals decorated the altar. Susan Vardeman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. Vardeman of Overland Park, Kans., was flower girl. Ringbearer was Jimmy Hammons, son of Mr. and Mrs. Finis Hammons of Kansas City, Mo.

Dick Fischer of Murray and Robert Woods of Phillipsburg, Kans., seated the guests.

Mrs. Richard Sack of Murray, organist, accompanied Mrs. Merle Rogers of Union, soloist, with vocal selections including "Because," "I Love You Truly," and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a waltz length gown which featured a satin bodice covered with imported chantilly lace and a scooped neckline accented with scallops. The sleeves were long and tapered to a point at the wrist and were caught with tiny lace covered buttons. The skirt of satin featured a parted pelum of chantilly lace covered with a froth of tulle. The fingertip veil of silk illusion, imported from England was held in place with a tiara of nylon hairbraids. She carried a cascade arrangement of calla lilies and soft blue delphinium and lace handkerchief over fifty years old, borrowed from a friend. Her only jewelry was a single strand of pearls.

Miss Darlene Hammons, sister of the groom of Fair Play, Mo., was maid of honor. She wore a gown of pink dotted swiss featuring a slim bodice with soft pleats accenting the neckline with tiny sleeves and full circular skirt. She carried a colonial bouquet of white pom-poms with a pink center.

Bridesmaids, Mrs. Ernest Bond of Plattsmouth and Miss Mildred Svagera of Omaha, were gowned in sky blue dotted swiss identical to that of the maid of honor. They carried colonial bouquets of white pom-poms with a blue center.

Bob Little served his cousin as best man. Both best man and the bridegroom were attired in dark blue business suits and wore a white carnation boutonniere.

A reception immediately following the ceremony, was held in the church parlors. Miss Edith Lewis cut and served the cake and Miss Wanda Little poured coffee. Mrs. Keith Hostetter served individual ice cream molds. Also assisting at the serving table was Mrs. Ronald Hostetter.

Patricia Toman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Toman of Plattsmouth, served the bride's table. Pink and white colors were carried out in room decorations.

Pauline and Frances Wilson were in charge of the gifts and were assisted by the Misses Sandra Toman of Plattsmouth and Dorothy Woods of Phillipsburg, Kans. Miss Frances Mottis of Isabel, South Dak., cousin of the bride, tended the guest book. Mrs. Joe Lochman of Plattsmouth had charge of the flowers.

Assisting in the kitchen were Mrs. Reuel Sack, Mrs. Johnny Stones, Mrs. Kenney Hostetter, Mrs. Lloyd Lewis and Mrs. Fred Campbell all of Murray.

The bride chose a two piece boxer suit of petal pink linen with white accessories and a corsage of powder blue pom-poms for her wedding trip to the Black Hills, Yellowstone and Northwestern states.

After three weeks the couple will be temporarily at home with the bridegroom's parents on a farm near Fair Play, Mo.
