ELMWOOD (Special)—A grocery shower was given to Miss Martha Ann Stolz, and Keith Bornemeier, Friday evening at the St. Paul Evangelical United Brethren Church. Couples were invited and forty-five guests were present.

The hostesses were Mrs. Ellis Miller, Mrs. Merle Bornemeier, and Jeannie Bornemeier.

The church was decorated for the occasion, and a program of a tap number also a Chinese song, by Sheery Dively Douglas in Chinese costume was given. There was also a mock wedding which created a lot of merriment.

The honorees received a bountiful supply of groceries.

Refreshments were served by the hostesses.

Harry Whites Back From Tour Of East Visited Their Son

Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. White have returned from a ten day trip to the east coast where they visited their son and daughter-in-law, Lt. and Mrs. Allan E. White, and their grandson Allan.

Much of their time was spent in sightseeing, with trips to Jamestown, site of the first permanent settlement in America; Williamsburg, which was the capitol of Colonial Virginia for nearly a hundred years, now restored to its original state through the Rockefeller Foundation; Yorktown, site of the final battles of the Revolutionary War and the Moore House, where General Washington accepted the surrender of Lord Cornwallis and the British Army to end the War of Independence.

Other interesting trips included a visit to the world famous Virginia Beach resort area and a tour of the Norfolk Naval Base, the largest in the world.

Certainly one of the highlights of the trip was a dinner and guided tour aboard the super-attack aircraft carrier, USS FORRESTAL.
