Practice Judging Is Carried Out at Recent 4-H School

By Pearl L. Groesser
Extension Agent

WEEPING WATER—One hundred ten 4-H'ers and leaders attended a practice judging school held in Weeping Water July 6. Three schools were in progress at the same time. Mrs. Ervin Albert assisted with the beginning sewing group. They selected material for aprons, judged hand towels, pot holders and grouped aprons.

The 4-H'ers in skirt and blouse projects selected materials for skirts and blouse combinations. They judged skirts, blouses and grouped skirts and blouses.

The advanced clothing 4-H'ers selected materials to go with patterns and told of their selections. They judged pattern lay-outs, school summer clothes and school winter clothes.
