'Disaster Area' Title Not All Free Benefit

Cass County Commissioners given details by letter Friday in regard to their application that Cass County be designated a "Disaster Area" have learned that there are some shortcomings to the program.

Cass County Drought Committee requested the County Commissioners be given a brief outline of the program from William L. Ownes, F.H.A. county supervisor of Otoe County.

Mr. Owens, quoting in part, a letter from the State Drought Committee stated the "County organization should not only know of the procedure which has been set up for handling these requests but should also understand both the benefits as well as some of the possible shortcomings of the Emergency Feed Program."

It goes on to say that the Feed Program is by no means an "all inclusive" program which would permit cheap feed to be obtained by all farmers who might need it or desire it. It means that the feed cannot be used for hogs, steers, feeder cattle, or feeder lambs. Foundation herds are eligible livestock which includes only cows, bulls replacement heifers, ewes and rams. It does not provide for any assistance in the procurement of hay, the letter states.

The letter adds, "All farmers are by no means eligible to purchase these feed grains at reduced prices. To be eligible, a farmer must have less than a 30-day supply of feed on hand for his foundation herd and the County F.H.A. Committee must determine that he is unable to maintain his foundation herds for the duration of the drought emergency with his own cash or resources.

Emergency feed applies only to such grains as corn, grain sorghum, barley and oats in surplus supply. It is also possible, the letter stated, that it could have an adverse effect on existing long-term and short-term credit in a county so designated.

Farmers who have cash or credit resources are not eligible for such loans or to buy feed at reduced prices, it was pointed out.

Water Board Plans New Storage Tank

The Plattsouth water board has in recent years been building a strictly modern water plant for this community, is taking another step to improve its plant northeast of this city east of the Burlington railroad tracks.

This will be a new storage tank, seventy feet in diameter, and nine foot high, placed in concrete base, connected to replace the present settling basin in use since the water plant was first erected in the eighties.

This will be another stride forward since the city purchased the plant from the Plattsouth Water Co., and placed it under city ownership.

In the time since the city water board took over, there has been a wonderful change in operation, as well as expansion of the plant, methods of operation. Electric pumps are used in the plant instead of the old coal fired boilers, the extension of the pipe lines over the city, erection of a large standpipe in the southwest part of the city to serve the newer residential additions.

New pipe lines over the city have been replaced where needed in addition to the new extensions.

The Plattsouth water board has carried on a great work with experienced executives giving their services to the people of Plattsouth without return. When Mayor R. B. Hayes appointed the original board, Fred I. Rea, C. A. Johnson and E. H. Bernhard, he made a fine selection of far seeing men, this policy has been continued on through the years. Mr. Bernhard moved from the city some years ago and was succeeded by John J. Clodt. The beloved chairman has been called away, with Carl Schneider as his worthy successor. Mr. Johnson is the chairman of the board.

Not the least fortunate features of the splendid record is the fact that Robert Cappell, hired as superintendent by the original board is still on the job adding to the splendid record of service and efficiency to the city and water consumers.

Age of the flint piece was verified by the State Historical Society who stated it was definitely of native stone and verified other findings that this area was populated thousands of years ago.
