Has Fine Exhibit In Coin Collection

Visitors to the King Korn Carnival had the opportunity of viewing a very fine collection of coins owned by Charles "Chuck" Ault. This was exhibited in a window of the Schmidt-mann store.

Mr. Ault has followed his hobby of coin collecting for several years, closely associated with meetings of numismatics over the country, this enabling him to enlarge his collection, gain great knowledge of the history of coins and their value.

His showing of minted dollars is one of the best, especially as it covers many of the changes in the U. S. money through the years.
