WHY THE FARMER IS SWINGING TO STEVENSON AND KEFAUVER

The American farmer deserves a fair share of the nation's prosperity. But he's not getting that fair share today under the Eisenhower-Nixon-Benson Administration. For every dollar farmers earned in 1952, they get only 75 cents today, even though the cost of living is higher than ever before.

So the farmers are swinging to Adlai Stevenson and Estes Kefauver. The farmers are swinging to Stevenson and Kefauver because the 1956 Democratic platform has the best farm plank ever written. It pledges to regain the 100% of parity the farmers had in 1952.

The farmers are swinging to Stevenson and Kefauver because they are fed up with broken promises. In 1952, Eisenhower promised to continue 90% of parity price supports. Today, price supports are far below that, and the parity ratio is only 82%.

The farmers are swinging to Stevenson and Kefauver because they're tired of hearing Ezra Taft Benson preach to them about surpluses. They have learned from hard experience that Benson's method of disposing of surpluses is to dispose of many family farmers.

The farmers are swinging to Stevenson and Kefauver because they will work for effective, fair programs to dispose of our farm surpluses. These are: an expanded school lunch program, a new food stamp plan, and increased foreign trade. Meantime, until these programs are actually ready, under the Democratic program, prices will be protected from taking the loss for abundant production.

The farmers are swinging to Adlai Stevenson for President and Estes Kefauver for Vice President because these Democratic leaders are fighting the fight of the farmers to stay in business... they are fighting for a New America with abundance for all Americans... and the farmers know it! They're swinging to Stevenson and Kefauver!
