STATE HISTORICAL SOCIETY
Rock County

The area that is now Rock county was part of several counties before the present county was created. It was the Eastern-most part of the vast reaches of Northwestern Nebraska that were first organized as Sioux county, and administered from Cheyenne county in the 1870's. A little later the area now embracing Rock county was attached to Holt county for administrative purposes, Holt county having been organized in 1876. The next step was the organization of Brown county in 1883. The Brown county of 1883 was a great deal larger than the Brown county of today including present Brown, Keya Paha and Rock counties. The Niobrara river was a considerable barrier to communication at this time, and in little more than a year the people North of the river petitioned for and were granted the right to vote on dividing the county with the river as the dividing line. This division separated Keya Paha from Brown county. Within two years the citizens of Eastern Brown county were asking to divide the county again. Petitions were presented to the County Commissioners in both 1886 and 1887 to create a new county to be named Ekhorn from the Eastern part of Brown county. In 1888 another petition for the same purpose, but naming the new county Rock was presented and the proposal came to a vote. The vote for division was successful and so Rock county came into existence.

Rock county and its parent had an acrimonious time in division. There was a great deal of controversy over dividing the county property, from county records to the coal and wood supplies that were on hand to keep the county offices warm through the coming winter to county land and buildings in Ainsworth, the Brown county seat. All disputed points were settled in 1890 except for a claim by Rock county to part ownership in the Court House site in Ainsworth. This was finally carried to the Supreme Court where the claim of Rock county to a proportionate share of this site, which had been given to Brown county while what was to become Rock county was still part of it, was upheld.

Rock county had comparative little trouble in locating its county seat. A vote in 1888 gave Basset 315 votes to 179 for Newport and 273 votes scattered among Thurman, Tracy and Rock Cent. An absolute majority was needed to win the county seat, but the county board named Basset as temporary county seat, and in a special election in January of 1889, only 36 days after the previous election, Basset was made the permanent county seat.

Before the area that became Rock county was officially organized it had some wild and exciting time with the "Pony Boys" or, as much of the state called them, horse thieves. The most famous of these was Doc Middleton but they are tied most specifically to Rock county by the lynching of one of Middleton's Lieutenants, Kid Wade, at Basset. Middleton was arrested and given a five year term in the Nebraska State Penitentiary in 1879, but Wade continued his activities. He was arrested in Iowa in January, 1884, and brought back to Nebraska. After threats of vigilante action and lynching, and after several transfers of the prisoner, the Holt county sheriff gained custody of Wade in Long Pine and started for O'Neill with him. The sheriff and his prisoner stopped over night in Basset on February 7th. Wade was taken from the sheriff and his deputies by vigilantes and hung on a whistle post about a mile East of Basset shortly after midnight.

More Females
In its latest estimate the Census Bureau reports that females now outnumber males in the United States by about 1,381,000. The greatest disparity is in the 25 and older age groups. The sex ratio switch is said to be due to two factors: The mortality rate is higher for men, about 200,000 more deaths occurred among males than females for each of the last six years, and immigration has declined—only about two-fifths of persons coming to live in this country now are males. Prior to 1930, about two-thirds of the immigrants were males.

Counties, Urban Areas In Spot Of Losing Federal Aid On Roads

BY OWEN J. BOYLES,
Highway Commission Secretary

Under the present division of our highway users revenue there are only sufficient revenues available to our highway department to match primary and state secondary funds, there being a deficiency in the matching of interstate monies.

The counties and the urban areas of the state have not in the past taken full advantage of the federal secondary and urban funds and the past year the highway department was fortunate to have had monies to match these funds or, otherwise we, the people of Nebraska, would have lost sufficient revenues under those allocations. Now with the accelerated program under the new federal act, the counties and urban areas must find some way to take advantage of their allocations or such funds will revert to the federal government.

In previous comments I have attempted to set forth the sources of state revenues to the highway agencies of our state. At this time would like to quote to you, the figures on federal revenues which are available to Nebraska under the federal highway act of 1956. During the period of July 1, 1956, to June 30, 1959, federal funds allocated during this period for our primary system total $17,900,000, to our secondary road fund, $17,700,000, to the interstate system, $72,200,000. Of the above amounts state revenues must be provided by our state highway department on a ratio of 50-50 basis on the primary and secondary monies. Of the interstate federal aid they must be matched with state funds on a 90 per cent federal, 10 per cent state basis.

In addition to the foregoing monies there is also made available under the act the following allocation to counties of federal aid secondary funds in the amount of $8,700,000 and to the cities under federal aid urban funds in the amount of $4,900,000 which monies must be matched by the counties and cities on a 50-50 basis.

Again I say, there is an urgent need at the present time to find a way in which these monies may be matched by the counties and cities. For if they are not then as I stated before, we, the people of Nebraska, will forfeit these funds not matched to some other state and this we surely cannot afford to let happen.

Of our present state highway system I believe we must strive and make it our goal to dustless surface all our highways and bring them up to present day standards and in so doing will ultimately accomplish the following:

1. Reduce our traffic deaths due to the hazards now encountered on our present dirt and gravel roads.
2. Reduce maintenance cost which in turn will make more monies available for more construction and improvement
