

Elmwood P-TA Sees Portrayal Of Three Systems Of Teaching

ELMWOOD (Special) — The January meeting of the Elmwood P-T-A. was held in the auditorium of the high school, Monday Jan. 21, with demonstrations of three systems of teaching.

Mrs. Ruth Godbey demonstrated the "Old Time School" even to the old time dress which she wore, and represented the strict disciplinarian era. The pupils were Lynn Whittemore, Iva K. Irons, Dennis Drake, Larry Bornemeier, Judy Drake and Joan Hansen. She taught Penmanship, arithmetic and geography, with no whispering or other mis-conduct allowed.

Mrs. Ebers demonstrated the modern system, and taught a class of three, typewriting. The pupils were Raylene Miller, Karen Hansen and Norma Ahrens,

The meeting opened with the president, Ted Hall, presiding. The H. S. triple trio "A" sang "Winter Wonderland", and triple trip "A" sang "Jingle Bells". Iva K. Irons accompanied triple A trip and Lynn Whittemore, the triple B trio.

Secretary, Mrs. Harold Wilkens read the minutes of the last meeting. Mrs. Elson Mendenhall was in charge of the program. Mrs. Ethel Strabel, Cass County co-chairman of the March of Dimes campaign gave a talk on the need to complete the fight on polio; and two films were shown: one the "Unconditional Surrender," and the other "Look at Me" showing the effects of polio, treatments used etc.

These films impress upon one the need to finish the fight on polio. The P. T. A. took action for a polio clinic in Elmwood, if possible so that not only children and youths to age 19, but older persons might also avail themselves of taking the Salk vaccine shots. A figure was discussed of a charge of 40 cents for the first group, and $1.60 for persons over 19 years.

The February meeting will be a founder's tea held on the third Monday.

Refreshments were served afterwards in the school cafeteria.

The Ears Have It!

Foreign Or Domestic — This Gal Has Earrings By The Hundreds

Mrs. Cleo Baker has a collection of earrings that would make any woman's eyes turn green. A recent count tallied 445 pairs in the hands of the owner with earrings from nearly every state of the United States and several foreign countries.

How has Mrs. Baker obtained so many earrings? The collection started by her son, Don Baker, while he was serving with the armed forces. Now, many friends and relatives have added to the collection, bringing Mrs. Baker gifts of ornaments from vacations.

The earrings are made up of the following:

Copper, silver and gold from Sweden, Scotland and Mexico; nuts, from Hawaii; bamboo, from Puerto Rico and aluminum lead, leather, rubber, nylon, straw, fish scales, clay, plastic, angora, rickrack and china.

Collections from foreign states as follows: Persia, Italy, Japan, Belgian, Vancouver, Toronto and Regina, Canada; Trieste; Aaska, Cuba, Jamaica, Puerto Rico, Panama, Mexico, Germany, Holland, Spain, Sweden, Switzerland, India, Egypt and Scotland.

She has earrings from every state in the United States with the exception of Wisconsin, West Virginia, South Carolina, Rhode Island, Mississippi, Michigan, Maryland, Idaho, District of Columbia, Vermont, Delaware, New Hampshire, Arizona, Arkansas, California, Maine and North Dakota.
