especially Burma and Indonesia. Many of these South East Asian countries have just won independence from colonial rule.

Mrs. Cole gave an interesting resume of the origins and beliefs of these ancient religions, which are undergoing a strong revival, thus making it more difficult for the Christian churches especially in the cities. In all of Burma only 2 per cent of the inhabitants are Christian, but in the outlying districts, where religion is animistic, 40 per cent have been converted. More trained Christian leaders are needed to thoroughly Christianize these hundreds of converts. Although the churches gratefully acknowledge the help rendered by devoted Christian laymen, who give unsparingly of their time and efforts to the work and to organizations.

The lesson closed with the reading of Acts 17:15-34 and the singing of "We've a Story to Tell the Nations," with Mrs. Robert Cole as pianist. The hostesses served refreshments.

Senator Gore (D. Tenn.) has announced he is drafting legislation that will limit the amount any single individual can contribute to political campaigns in any one year.
