Refreshments were served by the Oracle.

Former Resident Returns Home After 50 Year Absence

Herman Kessler, who came to this city in 1896, from his native Germany, is again a resident of Plattsmouth, now being at the Nebraska Masonic Home, and has had a very interesting time in trying to locate friends of the olden days.

He left here in 1906 and cannot find many that he recognizes or that are acquainted with him.

He was raised a Mason in Plattsmouth lodge, No. 6, AF & AM in 1905 when V. V. Leonard, pioneer photographer, was master of the lodge.

His work has been largely in railroad shop lines, covering a number of years in Plattsmouth, Lincoln, Havelock, Torrington, Wyo., and Wymore, from which place he came to Plattsmouth.

When he came to Plattsmouth in the early days he entered employment with the Burlington at the local shops. His first job was with the store department in the lumber yard under the late Frank Boyd, then one of the most active spots in the shop yards. Later he entered the "mill" where the late Ed Barstow was foreman and also was associated with the late William Tippens.

Mr. Kessler states that the family when residing here, lived in a residence near the present William Schmidtman residence. He also was one of the volunteer labor men that helped to build the St. Paul's Evangelical and Reformed Church, at Fifth and Vine Street.

He recalls that when he first came here, he made out application for his "first" naturalization papers. Later when he was visiting the court house, he met the late W. K. Fox and at that time a number were being naturalized. Mr. Fox inquired as to his papers and finding he had only the "first" papers, he arranged to have Herman given his final papers and he was a full fledged citizen. It was the custom in those days to grant "first" papers that would entitle the newcomer to vote, this has now been changed and the applicant must receive his full citizenship.

Mr. Kessler is a brother of Miss Antonia Kessler, celebrated pianist, and for many years one of the best known musicians in this part of the west. Later she was married and left this city for the east where she won further fame for her musical work. She is still living and in her advanced years resides at a home near Chicago, and even today her artistic fingers can lure beautiful melodies from the piano.
