Dr. L. S. Pucelik
25 Years Service
In Plattsmouth

On Saturday, June 1st, Dr. L. S. Pucelik observed his twenty-fifth anniversary in the practice of his profession in Plattsmouth. He is now the dean of the medical practitioners in the city, coming here in 1932 fresh from his internship, following his graduation from the Creighton University College of Medicine.

Dr. L. S. Pucelik

Dr. Pucelik is a native Nebraskan, born at Spencer, and residing there until his school work was completed. Deciding on the practice of medicine he came to Omaha to complete his college work and received his degree.

Deciding to locate in his native state, Dr. Pucelik purchased the office here owned by Dr. E. A. Gillespie, coming to the city by the flowing Missouri River to make his future home. The offices were at that time located on the upper floor of the building on Main street that is now occupied by Drs. Ryan and Amato.

In later years Dr. Pucelik moved to its present location, 617 Main street, here the greater part of the years has been spent in his profession.

With the passing of time the reputation of Dr. Pucelik as physician and surgeon has grown until it is state wide. He is now a member of the staffs of the St. Catherine's, St. Joseph and Children's Hospitals in Omaha, where he is highly regarded for his surgical work.

Dr. and Mrs. Pucelik are parents of four sons, Tom, now a senior in the St. Paul's seminary at St. Paul, Minn., where he is studying for the priesthood of the Roman Catholic Church, Jerry, senior at the Creighton University College of Medicine, James, second year in pharmacy at Creighton University, Robert, freshman at Creighton Prep School in Omaha.

Dr. and Mrs. Pucelik also have the pleasure of being grandparents, their son, Jerry, being the father of a little daughter, Cathy.

Lawrence Smiths Locate in City

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Smith of Louisville have moved to this city and located in the Snell apartments on Avenue A.

They have just recently returned home from an 8,000 mile trip through the west and the Pacific Coast country, enjoying the scenery and visiting with relatives as they journeyed along. They took the south route that took them through Kansas, Oklahoma, Texas, New Mexico, and Arizona. On reaching California they visited many of the best known features of that state including the Knott Berry Farm, Disneyland, TV studios, trips to the Pacific ocean and to San Francisco. They visited a sister, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Dhiel at Yuba City, as well as at Eugene Ore., with Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Nance and at Seattle, with the Paul Ingram family, old Louisville friends. They visited the saw mills in Oregon. One of the features was hitting snow blocked roads that made it necessary to go to Utah to get on home.

World War I
Group Meets
At Memphis

Sunday a group of former members of the 314 Ammunition Train, 89th division, held a reunion at Memphis. This was composed of Cass and Saunders County members of the outfit that served together in 1917-1919 in World War I.

There were twenty-one members present at the picnic and get together with their wives and families.

There was plenty of stories told of the days when they were supplying ammunition to the front in the days when eastern France was a raging furnace of fire related by the members of the group as well as more pleasant stories of days of the occupation in Germany.
