Cass County Farm Owners Are Honored

UNION (Special)—Several of the farmers of Nebraska are being honored for the fact that the land they farm has been in the possession of members of their family for a period of 100 years. The farm residents have been designated for the "100 Year Award."

The Kendall farm, consisting of 160 acres, northeast of Union, was preempted from the government by the late Francis Kendall, an officer in the Union Army. He came from Erie, Pa., in 1857 and settled on this farm after the death of the original owner, it was owned and operated by the family of late Robert Kendall consisting of Mrs. Rosa Kendall, Mrs. Rue Frans, Rachel Kendall and David F. Kendall.

This farm with other land, is now operated as a partnership by the family of the late David F. Kendall, grandson of the original owner. Members of the family are Mrs. Myrtle Kendall, Suzanne and Roger and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kendall, Bobby and Ann.

Pioneer Farm Award presented to Mr. and Mrs. Melvin R. Todd Sr., and daughter, Nancy and Mr. and Mrs. Melvin R. Todd, Jr., and daughter, Jane, who reside on the farm north of Union, which was founded by Levi G. Todd Sr., 100 years ago.

Levi G. Todd, Sr., was born in the state of New York in 1829. He left home at the age of 21 and worked out for six months, earned $854, saved every cent and headed west. He arrived at Glenwood, Ia., in August 1853 and left the last white settlement when he crossed the Missouri River to the Nebraska side at what is now Plattsmouth. Here he helped erect the first log house and trading post, returning to Iowa for the winter. In the spring of 1854 he settled permanently in Nebraska. He broke a claim of 200 acres near the site of Plattsmouth, selling it and pre-empting 160 acres near Union in 1857, where he resided until his death in 1906. He owned about 1200 acres of land in Cass County. He was the first justice of the peace elected in Cass County, performing the second marriage ceremony, and he served as county commissioner in 1860. He was a member of the territorial legislature in 1863 and in 1878 was a candidate for governor on the Greenback ticket, polling 9,475 votes.

Upon the death of Levi G. Todd, Sr., ownership of the home place passed to Levi G. Todd, Jr., the youngest of seven children. He was a prominent farmer and stockman and held many positions of trust in his community, county and state, serving in the state legislature in 1917.

He died in 1939 when ownership passed to Melvin R. Todd, Sr., who has lived on and operated the farm since 1931. This year 1957, Melvin R. Todd, Jr., became a partner with his father in the operation of the farm which was founded 100 years ago.
