Winscot Is 'Doubtful' For Friday

Plattsmouth's football team was scheduled for a light varsity workout to shake out kinks today and a Reserves game against Glenwood's Reserves at 3 p.m.

The varsity squad, about 12 or 14 of whom will be held out of the reserves game, was suffering the usual post-opener bumps and bruises and some more serious ailments.

Most seriously injured was quarterback Tom Winscot with a torn muscle above the knee. This morning it was "doubtful whether he will be able to go Friday," coach Burdette Hansen said.

Bill Long, first string center, had a shoulder and arm injury. Hansen said first indications were that Long probably will be able to play Friday.

Those two players missed a good share of the opener after playing well in the first half and parts of the second.

Loren Todd, linebacker, and halfback Ken Dasher also had aggravations of earlier injuries.

After today's exercises and sprinting, the varsity was to begin serious work for its game at Beatrice Friday, Tuesday and Wednesday will be devoted to lots of work on tackling. Hansen said he was highly critical of the Blue Devils' tackling in losing to Crete Friday.

Injuries, Mistakes Costly For PHS

Plattsmouth High today began to prepare for its second grid date of the season, Friday night at Beatrice, nursing assorted injuries and looking back after yielding grudgingly to Crete, 27-18, last Friday here.

The Blue Devils unveiled a new offense in their opener, a winged-T. It was good for three TDs, two of them brilliantly earned.

But, injuries to two key players, missed conversion attempts, two costly surprises by Crete and a Plattsmouth defense that yielded a little too much yardage overshadowed the offense.

Plattsmouth was only a point down, 12-13, when quarterback Tom Winscot suffered a leg injury and had to leave the game for good with 4:33 left in the third quarter.

A little later center Bill Long sustained an arm injury and was forced to sit out the rest of the game.

Coach Burdette Hansen Saturday said he felt a big factor in Plattsmouth's having to battle uphill the whole game was missing the points after TD.

The teams were 6-6 and little to give between them. But when Crete scored next, made the extra point and Plattsmouth could counter with only a TD, it was an odds-against battle for Plattsmouth.

Hansen said mistakes for which his team paid were a fake punt which Crete pulled on 4th and 3 to keep rolling on its 2nd TD march; an inside kick which gave Crete possession after its first TD, and a 3rd mistake, an apparent in-motion violation by Crete during its 1st TD drive.

On the latter the official seemed to begin reaching for his infraction flag and stop. It happened on 4th and one and the play went for a 1st down.

Hansen said he was disappointed in his team's end play, linebacking and tackling in general. Uncertain tackling cost much yardage.

PLATTSMOUTH TD — Al Dasher (No. 4), on back in center foreground, had just scored Plattsmouth's second touchdown against Crete Friday night when this photo was taken. It was a one-yard plunge. Other local players are John Konfrst (3), Loren Fleschman (5), Bob Hutton (8) and Ken Pritchard (17).

Plattsmouth was hurt before the game began when the school learned that Lee Shipley, a promising defensive player, was ineligible scholastically from last year at Bellevue.

Crete's ability to run wide helped keep Plattsmouth in trouble. The visitors' wide running, with halfback Marvin Drevo and quarterback Harvey Duba carrying most often, gave them control of the ball most of the game.

Crete ran 76 plays for scrimmage to only 31 for Plattsmouth.

After a scoreless first quarter in which Crete had the only two first downs, the visiting Cards scored on the 4th play of the second period.

They had recovered a Plattsmouth fumble on the home 27. Drevo, a lightning-fast starter, bolted through from the 4 to make it 6-0. Plattsmouth blocked the attempted placekick.

The Blue Devils tied the score with 4:47 to go to the half. Guard Loren Fleschman set it up by intercepting a deflected pass on the Crete 37.

Al Dasher dashed 19 yards on a quick opener to the 18. Winscot threw to Ken Dasher, a 16-yard pass play to the three. Fullback John Konfrst was stopped for no gain but Winscot ran left end on a bootleg for the TD. Tom Dunham's dropkick was blocked.

Crete managed to get out front again by 9 seconds. It went 57 yards without giving up the ball, Duba running 23 of the last 24 yards on keeper plays, the last from one yard away with :09 showing of the 1st-half time.

Duba also ran the extra point for the 13-6 score.

Plattsmouth bounced back into the game with 8:30 left in the 3rd quarter after Long recovered a Crete fumble on the visitors' 26.

Jerry Sayers ran 7 yards and Al Dasher 9. A play lost 2 yards but Crete was penalized 15 to the one. Al Dasher bucked over the right side for the 13-12 score. On the dropkick for point setup, the pass from center was fumbled.

Crete used a 13-yard Plattsmouth punt which rolled dead among a melee of players on a disputed possession play and a 6-play march to lead 20-12 with 8:42 left in the 4th quarter.

The punt play was one on which the ball might have touched a number of players but was declared dead.

Drevo ran 17 and 12 yards during the drive but Duba scored on a keeper from a yard out. He ran the extra point.

Plattsmouth exploded for its final TD and gave the home fans the biggest thrill of the game.

Starting from its 20 after an endzone kickoff, Al Dasher got outside right end and ran 34 yards to the Crete 46 on first down. Sayers ran left end on the next play 46 yards to score.

He was flagged at the line of scrimmage and pressed for 10 yards but ran alone the rest of the way down the sideline.

Tom Dunham dropkicked for an apparent 27-19 score but there was a rules infraction and his second try was late and blocked - 27-18.

The Crete TD preceding the Blue Devils' final burst was more of Duba and Drevo. Starting from the Cards' 34, 4 plays carried to the Plattsmouth 49. Duba broke through for 22, a play up the middle was stopped for no gain but Drevo took a handoff, got 7 yards and threw a last-second lateral to Duba who went all the way, a 32-yard play.

The kick from placement was good.

Beatrice Bows, 26-0, Friday

Beatrice, Plattsmouth's next Twin Rivers Conference football foe Friday night, lost its opener 26-0, at Falls City last Friday.

The result was not unexpected. The size of the score and the ease with which Falls City won were a little surprising.

Falls City out-first-downed Beatrice 14-2 and outgained it 301 to 65 yards.

Bob Gibson scored two touchdowns, one from 4 yards out after his team retrieved a Beatrice fumble on the latter's 39; the other from 15 yards away on a drive of 43 yards.

Other TDs were by Jim Poage, a 5-yarder in a 63-yard march, and Larry Stednitz, a one-yarder, on a 63-yard drive with the second team playing the 4th quarter.

Fairbury of the conference lost 19-12 to Hastings which scored 12 points in the 4th quarter.

GROWING POWER

How NPPS is helping Nebraska farmers provide "low-cost" crop insurance

The wise use of irrigation during recent years has mushroomed Nebraska crop yields . . . has helped produce sleek cattle . . . has made many Nebraska areas virtually drought-proof.

More than 2,000,000 acres in Nebraska are now under irrigation . . . the fastest growing irrigation state in the nation.

Public power, through the Nebraska Public Power System, has helped to make this irrigation growth and the resulting prosperity possible.

Nebraska hydroelectric power districts annually produce approximately 500 million kilowatt hours of low-cost electricity. The water used to generate this power eventually finds its way to farm acres.

Electricity is also a valuable source of power for Nebraska's fastest growing industry . . . pump irrigation. This year, NPPS will supply pump irrigators more than 60,000,000 kwh of energy — an amount equal to the combined average annual demand of the Lincoln, Norfolk and Columbus areas.
