War And Peace Opens At Cass Theatre

'War and Peace,' the vast three-hour-and-twenty-eight-minute filmization of the monumental Tolstoy novel of life, love and war in Czarist Russia during the Napoleonic invasions, will run Monday and Thursday, Oct. 23 and 24 at the Cass Theatre. One showing each night starting at 7:15 at regular admission.

Cast with over 18,000 players, the VistaVision, Technicolor spectacular's top starring roles are portrayed by Audrey Hepburn, Henry Fonda and Mel Ferrer, with a large and distinguished cast making up a total of sixty speaking parts. Over six years in the making, the Pont-De-Laurentis Production for Paramount release, directed by King Vidor, is a faithful reproduction of what has been called the greatest novel ever written, with its intricately interwoven stories of a score of unforgettable characters told against the background of three of the greatest battles in European history.

Local Lady Aids Finding Suzann Laing, Des Moines

Mrs. William E. Keeley of this city has proven to be a valuable aid in solving the disappearance of Suzann Laing, 16-year-old Des Moines, Ia., student at Brownell Hall, Omaha.

Miss Laing, senior student at Brownell, in her second year at the school last Sunday secured a permit to take a one hour walk from the school and from that date until Wednesday her whereabouts were unknown.

Her disappearance caused a great deal of apprehension to the school and to the parents, Dr. and Mrs. M. M. Laing, of Des Moines, who were notified of the disappearance of the daughter, it being thought that she might have returned home from the school.

She had been traced to the Greyhound bus station in Omaha and there the trail was lost until Mrs. Keeley had been in Omaha to visit her husband at the Veterans hospital, Sunday, and took the late afternoon bus back to Plattsmouth. On boarding the bus a young lady occupied a seat with Mrs. Keeley and the two had chatted until reaching Plattsmouth, where Mrs. Keeley had gotten off. On Tuesday Mrs. Keeley read the story of the disappearance and the description of Miss Laing, this aroused her suspicions and she later called the missing persons bureau of the Omaha police department, and the search was on at Kansas City, Mo. Teletype of the story was made and the parents on the base of the story hurried to Kansas City and had an appeal to the daughter to return telecast. This was seen by the girl and shortly after she reported at a police station and was placed in touch with the parents. On reaching Kansas City Miss Laing had gone to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Cates, and they had also seen the telecast. She had met Mrs. Helen Cates, 17, daughter-in-law of the Cates on the streets and had gone to her home. After seeing the telecast Miss Laing had confessed to her hosts about the incident.

The story was revealed of a lover's quarrel between Miss Laing and a boy friend student at Des Moines high school. The girl was home Thursday night and the family and young people reconciled.

Mrs. Keeley is a sister of Sheriff Tom Solomon of this city and she had apparently shared the brother's keen sense of detection.

Doings In Police Court For Monday

Police court at the Monday morning session, was as drab as the weather without, and Judge J. H. Graves had but two cases up for hearing and one of these will be heard at a later date.

Richard E. Bradley, Orient, Ia., was charged by Officers Jenkins and Tesch with careless driving on Chicago Avenue. The court gave a fine of $20 and costs, a total of $24.

Walter A. Blumel of Omaha was charged by Officers Chappell and Jenkins with operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating liquor. The defendant made a plea of not guilty and placed a bond of $150 for appearance at a later date.

Commissioner Nolte Has Statement

"During this special meeting I requested that the complaining party be identified and present himself for questioning, also the petitioners who were present who by the way had petitions carrying the names of 51 farmers of the controversial area, also wanted to question this objector but the chairman of the board would not disclose his name.

"It has been the board's policy that each member direct the bridge crew when working in his district without consulting the other board members. This policy was being followed in an orderly, constructive way and as funds were made available.

"Much ado has been made over the fact that the road now ends in a corn field. This was done because sufficient funds were not available at this time to complete the project and the crops in the path of the road have not as yet been harvested.

"It was far better to start and add to the road until completed than it would have been to continue stalling the residents of that area which had been the policy for the past many years. All one has to do is to look north of Plattsmouth where for the present time the south bound lane of the new U. S. 75 ends in a corn field and will remain there until sufficient funds are made available for the Plattsmouth by-pass.

"Now, in view of the closing of the Louisville road by the state, citizens of the western part of the county have no direct route to the county seat and must now either go six miles south and take State No. 1 or continue on further south and use U. S. 34.

"Or, one might take a train to Plattsmouth or come by way of Sarpy County. This to me is a deplorable situation which should never have been allowed to exist.

"Five years ago, work was commenced on the Greenwood-Mynard road. One-half of this project is completed and the other half was shelved in favor of a road which carries a traffic count of 100 vehicles per day less and will cost upwards of $95,000; while no request of any individual or delegation was made before the board for this project.

"The Bureau of Public Roads Secondary System gave the Greenwood-Mynard project a number one project rating. This rating and the demand of the road users is being sidelined. A large delegation from the 1st and 2nd Districts appeared before the board (in January this year) in favor of the Greenwood-Mynard project.

"Voting 2 to 1 in favor of dropping this project was utter disregard of the rating of the road and of the general welfare of the county."

What's the Story on ASIATIC FLU SHOTS?

When Asiatic Flu first invaded the United States, there was no known vaccine that would provide immunity against it. Today, there is one — thanks to the research and resourcefulness of the American drug industry which had to start from scratch to develop, produce and distribute the vaccine. More and more of it is being made available every day. We pledge that whatever supplies we receive will be placed immediately at the disposal of physicians. Keep in touch with your doctor. When he has the vaccine, he will be happy to administer it to your family.
