Mrs. Axel Irwin Dies From Injuries Suffered In Fire

Mrs. Axel Irwin, 37, of Ainsworth, Neb., died in an Omaha Hospital Monday night of injuries suffered in a fire that destroyed the Irwin home October 9th. The fire took the lives of two of her children in the fire. She has been at an Omaha hospital since October 16th.

Two more of the children, Alberta Hall, 12 and Charles, 6, are now at a Lincoln hospital where they are reported "doing quite satisfactory".

Ainsworth police said that the fire apparently started as Mrs. Irwin was filling the gasoline motor of a washing machine. They said the bottom dropped out of the gasoline can, spilling gas across the floor. It ignited and the house was quickly engulfed by flames.

Mrs. Irwin was a cousin of Mrs. Lester Spangler of this city.

Funeral Of Member Of Pioneer Family Held At Lincoln

Funeral services were held Wednesday at 1 o'clock p. m. at the Hodgman-Splain chapel in Lincoln for John B. Meisinger, 87, with Rev. Raymond Alber conducting the services. Burial was at Wyuka cemetery with nephews of the deceased serving as pall bearers.

Mr. Meisinger was a member of the family that have played a great part in the story of Cass County, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. (Baltz) Meisinger one of seven brothers that came west from Illinois to settle in Cass County in an early day.

John B. Meisinger was born in Tazewell county, Ill., and was brought west by the parents when a child, spending his childhood in this section of Nebraska.

He removed to Lincoln some sixty years ago and has since made his home in the capitol city. Mr. Meisinger was an employee of the state insurance department for the past twenty years, retiring from active duty five years ago. He has for the past years made his home at the Lindell Hotel, Lincoln. His wife, Nannie, preceded him in death in 1953.

Mr. Meisinger was a member of the East Lincoln Christian Church.

Surviving his death is one brother, L. A. Meisinger, of Plattsmouth as well as a large number of nieces and nephews.

Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Meisinger of this city and their son, Oliver Meisinger and family were at Lincoln for the services.
