

Rotary Hears Minister from Omaha Mission

Sixty per cent of the adults in the U. S. are faced with the threat of alcoholism, Rev. Jerry Dunn, field representative of the City Mission, Omaha, told the Rotary Club here Tuesday noon.

Rev. Dunn said the majority of cases with which the Mission deals have alcoholism as a basis for the problems involved.

The 60 per cent of Americans he spoke of are the "social drinkers" from whom the 5 million persons now classed as alcoholics in the U. S. have come. All alcoholics, he said, started as social drinkers.

Rev. Dunn described his own struggle with alcoholism and victory over it. He said he found his solution to the drinking problem in the Word of God. The Mission bases its work among "derelicts" on the hope of a new life through the guidance of the Bible.

He said the Mission offers men "soup, soap and salvation." Men whose problems the Mission helps with these days are in the 25-45 age group. The majority of cases in the past were from 45 to 60 years of age, Rev. Dunn said.

The Mission had an average daily attendance during the latest period checked of 273 a day, 243 meals fed daily and 63 men given lodging each night.

Omaha gets more than its share of men who are "down and out," Rev. Dunn said, because it is a rail center.
