

PHS vs. Pius X Tuesday at 8:30

Plattsmouth High meets Pius X of Lincoln Tuesday at 8:30 p. m. at Nebraska Wesleyan in Lincoln in the first round of the Class A tournament district that has produced the state champion in that class three years running.

Three years ago and last year it was Holy Name of Omaha winning the district and annexing the state crown. Two years ago it was Falls City winning in District One and becoming Nebraska champion.

District One was played here the first three years of the existence of Class A (a 32-school division). It was moved to Wesleyan this year by the state association.

The district this year includes Crete, Nebraska City, Fairbury, Falls City and Plattsmouth of the Twin Rivers Conference and Pius, Seward and Columbus.

The team-to-beat is Crete, the Twin Rivers champ which has been highly ranked all season. Crete was seeded 1st, Falls City 2nd, Seward 3rd and Plattsmouth 4th.

Should Plattsmouth win Tuesday night, it will play the winner of the Crete-Nebraska City game Friday at 7 p. m. in the semifinals. The Crete-Nebraska City game is at 7 o'clock on Tuesday.

Other first-round games are Wednesday, Seward vs. Fairbury and Columbus vs. Falls City.

City. Winners meet at 8:30 Friday.

The championship game is at 7:30 Saturday.

The district champ advances to the state tournament finals along with three other Class A district champs.

Plattsmouth last year lost out in the semifinals of the district here when Holy Name overcame a one-point Plattsmouth lead in the final 23 seconds.

Here last Friday night, Plattsmouth warmed up for the tournament by winning its 5th in the last 6 games and running up its highest score of the season, 63-56 over Southeast of Lincoln. It was the 13th win in 20 for PHS.

It was an interesting game, one of counter rallies and marked by great free-throw shooting by the Blue Devils. They converted 21 out of 25 throws to keep out of danger most of the game.

Field goals were 21 out of 57, 460 for Plattsmouth, 20 out of 57, 351 for Southeast.

Plattsmouth got away from the starting line fast and led by 16-6 at the end of the first quarter before SE began to close in. It was 30-25 at the half with Tom Martin getting 11 of his 20 points in that stretch for Plattsmouth.

Martin got 7 points to help his team lengthen its lead early in the third period but Southeast switched to a fast break to pull up fast. It was 42-40 for Plattsmouth as the quarter ended.

The third period saw the exit from the game of Ken Dasher of Plattsmouth and Dave Myers of SE. The two wrestled for the ball on the floor after a jump-ball call and official asked them to sit out the rest of the game.

The incident did not appear to be dangerous.

Plattsmouth roofers and Martin got a scare early in the 4th quarter when Martin grabbed a rebound and fired a quick shot, at the wrong basket. It didn't connect, however.

With the pressure on, Plattsmouth rebounded better and was quicker on defense to win going away.

Jim Shown came through with 10 of his 13 points in the last 8 minutes and Larry Cundall got 6 of his 17 in that stretch.

In individual free-throwing, Shown had 5 for 5, Cundall 3 for 3, Al Dasher 5 for 6, Martin 3 for 9 and Bill Long and Ken Dasher 1 for 1 each.

The Blue Devils came through the game in good physical shape and should be at full strength for Pius X Tuesday night.

Class 'B' Region Game Here Thursday

Valley and Auburn will meet here at 8 o'clock at the high school auditorium in a Class B regional playoff basketball game, Supnt. T. I. Priest announced today.

The game is one of several "make-up" games specially scheduled after delays forced postponements due to last week's storms. The scheduling was done by the NSAA basketball committee.

Valley won in the district at Wahoo, Auburn at Nebraska Wesleyan.

Thursday's winner will earn a state tourney berth.

County C, E Hope Blasted In Tourneys

Cass County's last two hopes in the Class C and E district basketball tournaments fell by the way Thursday and Friday.

Louisville bowed in the semifinals of the Class C district at Lincoln Southeast Thursday, 50-48 to Waverly, last year's C runner-up in the state tournament.

Louisville led 30-25 at the half, rallied to regain the lead early in the fourth quarter but then lost the dogfight down the stretch. Orval Robbins led Louisville with 13 points.

Waverly had previously ousted Weeping Water, the Cass County Tourney champ, 42-29.

Friday at Yutan, Avoca fought an uphill battle most of the game but bowed to Walton, 46-40, in the final of the Class E district. Carroll Carsten paced Avoca with 16.

Avoca led 11-8 after the first quarter but fell back, 19-20 at halftime and 27-31 at the end of three quarters.

Avoca had advanced to the final by beating Murdock, 54-53. That was a personal duel between Carsten who hit 30 points and Gaylon Burrill of Murdock who scored 23.

Someone Likes Drifting Snow

It's an ill that blows nobody good, and Game Commission Project Leader Phil Agee, along with Max Hamilton and Ray Linder, Game Commission research biologists stationed at Fairmont, impatiently awaited the heavy drifting snows most people are anxious to avoid.

They were not in a hurry to test out new longhanded underwear or parkas. It was simply that such extreme conditions which fill ditches and dense cover patches with snow are ideal for making the aerial pheasant counts.

"All cocks," Agee explained, "will not band with the hens at this season unless the climate is adverse. With snow and wind, however, they will pull into flocks. Then we could make population checks and sex-ratio counts."

When conditions are correct, Agee, Hamilton and Linder will take to field to probe the secrets of the pheasant. A low-flying plane will cruise study areas in Clay and Fillmore counties. Numbers of pheasants will be checked. The ratio of cocks to hens will be counted from the ground.

In this manner, the Game Commission is able to determine the extent of last season's hunting harvest and will also be able to estimate the reproduction potential for the coming breeding season.

CPPD Aims To Save $100,000 During 1958

A savings of $100,000 in operating and maintenance expenses this year is the goal of Consumers Public Power District. That subject was the highlight during a 3-day meeting in Lincoln of about 70 CPPD superintendents, engineers and other supervisory personnel.

H. L. Carson, Columbus, CPPD's operations manager, told the field operating personnel that Consumers must continue to provide economical and efficient electric service but with "watchdog" checks on frills and nonessential expenditures.

He specifically stressed that CPPD's statewide construction budget of more than $5 million was prepared by "playing economics close to the vest." He urged the supervisory groups to "tighten up your belts, economically by cutting expenses in such fields as transportation, getting the very maximum out of all equipment, watching the little extra frills not needed in our operations and not letting up on top-grade service."

Carson said today's rising costs must be uppermost in the minds of all operating or supervisory personnel when they start a project. "Provide the customer with continued low-cost, efficient and courteous service. Transmission and distribution work must be completed but cut out the fat in such fields as transportation, bookwork, administration and other spots where the little extras can be trimmed without impairing good service."
