Capitol Corner

By Rep. Glenn Cunningham

Last week President Eisenhower announced that if he becomes disabled, he and the Vice President have an understanding that Nixon will become "Acting President." The President acted since Congress has foiled around on the matter and taken no action to clarify what should be done if a President is unable to carry out his duties.

Most people applauded the plan but House Speaker Sam Rayburn objected to it. Rayburn is a poor one to complain, since he, as Speaker of the House and leader of the majority, should see that action is taken on this important matter.

But instead he uses his great influence to remodel the Capitol building, which most people don't want done. It would seem that the emphasis is on the wrong matter.

Older persons sometimes have difficulty getting jobs because of arbitrary age limits set by some firms. A recent survey of 163 companies shows that older workers are rated just as good or better than younger people in attendance and over-all job performance.

The older folks show up very well in work quality, attitude toward their jobs and dependability. They also are listed as just as good or better than younger employees in performance after training, promptness, accident rate, company loyalty, number of grievances, response to supervision, turnover and many other categories.

Those who deplore present high federal budgets (and I am one of them) can take heart in one fact. Legislation proposed by extreme liberal Senators during the first session of this Congress would have added, if passed into law, nearly $26 billion to the federal budget.

WHY GET THE COFFEE? AMSTERDAM, Holland — The secretary who is merely adept at shorthand and typing will soon be obsolete, according to an inventor who is working on an "electrical secretary" that will be ready for mass production within three years. The inventor claims "The machine will silently, obediently and efficiently take a letter, type it, and address the envelope without stopping to powder its nose, light a cigarette, or go out for a cup of coffee."

Latest reports are that business executives from all over the world have expressed enthusiasm for the new invention. The secretaries they're not so sure.

Spring, Park Season Nearing

Early requests for cabin reservations indicate that Nebraska state parks are in for another banner year in 1958, reports Jack D. Strain, land-management and parks division chief for the Nebraska Game Commission.

Last year, 19,078 persons used overnight facilities in the state parks. Of this total, 5,367 were rental cabin guests, 2,543 were organized camp guests and 11,163 were campers. Total park attendance at the parks—Ponca, Stolley, Ft. Kearny, Arbor Lodge, Niobrara, Victoria Springs, Chadron and Fort Robinson—was 560,674, an all-time high.

"Even though cabin facilities will not be open until May 15, the requests have been reaching the park superintendents in unusually large numbers," the parks chief said. "The cabin season runs through Sept. 15."

Strain said all parks, however, are open the year-round. Only the cabins and the mansion at Arbor Lodge are closed during the winter months. April 15 is the opening date of the mansion.

Cabin rates are $5 for singles and $6 for doubles at Niobrara, Ponca, Victoria Springs and Chadron state parks. Rates at the Fort Robinson park facility are $8 for housekeeping cabins and $6 for overnight cabins without kitchens.

Strain said all those interested in cabin reservations should send them directly to the respective park superintendents.

Tags Can Save You Time, Money

Tags are one of the greatest work, time and money savers to the family who is moving.

March is a month when people generally move from place to place. In March we see many a farm family changing landlords.

Use tags to mark boxes when moving. Use colored tags to identify everything to be moved, and notify movers what room boxes labeled with a red tag should go into, yellow tags etc. You will find this method will save you and your helpers valuable time.

Another helpful hint would be to tag the box that holds essentials for that supper you will have to prepare on moving day—the one meal you wish in all the world you would not have to prepare.

Other uses for tags are to identify small children on planes, trains and buses. Also when visiting museums, parks and other public places.

Tags also help simplify dry-cleaning sorting. Tag soiled spots on clothing and describe the nature of the stains which will help your cleaner to give better service.

We don't want you to move from our city, but if you are being transferred or have to move to a better (?) climate - or want to tag your "crumb-snatchers" (children) come to the Plattsmouth Journal for your supply of tags.

Nebraska ranks 10th or higher in production of all the major ingredients in a modern chicken laying mash, states Dr. John Adams, chairman of the poultry department at the University of Nebraska. "Isn't that reason enough to say we should have a large and strong poultry industry in Nebraska," he asks.
