Decorator Touch, First Aid and Bottle Top Tip
 Those little cross-legged stools your son takes on camping trips can become decorator accents. Paint the legs of three or four such stools to blend with your room scheme. Then cover the canvas tops with smart new fabric. Place stools all in a row before a window or pair them off in appropriate places for TV-viewing.

Stubborn Bottles
 Tressa N. Peters of Valentine, Neb., says a nut-cracker works like a charm when you're trying to unscrew a small bottle-top that's closed too tight. (This is less risky than removing Dad's pliers from his work-table, I might add.)

Family First-Aider
 Since home accidents will happen, it's the smart homemaker who has a first-aid kit within easy reach at all times. Make your own with instant-soothers for burns and cuts, bandages, small scissors, cotton swabs, and even a card with the doctor's phone number. Be sure every family member knows its location... and tell the Baby Sitter where it is the moment she arrives.

Fresh-Polished Silver
 Have I remembered to say that the silver you've just polished ought to be stored in an air-tight plastic bag? Fasten it carefully. No tarnish if silver treated this way... keeps it dust-free, too.

Like a Happy Marriage
 Your local gas company works with a partner and helpmate—both dedicated to the plan of making your home more comfortable and efficient, economically! The natural gas you use for cooking, keeping home temperatures comfortable, clothes drying, and refrigeration comes to your home from your local gas company, who in turn gets this modern servant from a supplier: Northern Natural Gas Company, whose pipelines carry gas to your local gas company from hundreds of miles away.
