Bad-Check Purchase Of Truck License Here Is Costly

Dean Phillips, 23, Carson, Iowa, this week paid a fine of $50 and costs of $23.80 in County Court and made restitution on no-funds checks of $417.50 and $30.50 he gave the county treasurer for truck license and taxes.

Besides that, the license plates and registration are being held and the license and tax fees have not been refunded.

Phillips had purchased the license for a truck he said he had at Manley and given the checks on an Oakland, Iowa, bank. The checks proved worthless. Sheriff Tom Solomon traced Phillips to Iowa and he was returned here to face charges after first refusing to waive extradition to Nebraska.

In County Court, he pleaded "guilty" to the insufficient funds check charge.

Phillips has no connection with Manley, as far as has been determined.

Lord Nelson's flagship, the Victory, has long rested in dry-dock at Portsmouth, England.
