Dining Floors, Tasty Ribs and Clever Idea

If you're planning to redecorate your dining room, consider moving the carpet elsewhere. The family might lay smart new linoleum, plastic tile or cork on a weekend. Gives a bright, n-shining new look to your dining room.

Ribs for Two

Who doesn't love barbecued ribs? Try them the way Mrs. Roland Rooney of Minneapolis, Minn., fixes 'em. Brown about 2 lbs. lean spare ribs, pouring off all fat. Add sauce made of 1 can tomato soup, 1/2 can water, 1/2 cup brown sugar, 1 grated onion, 2 Tbsp. vinegar, 1 Tbsp. lemon juice, 1/2 tsp. salt, and 1/4 tsp. pepper, all ingredients mixed and heated. Simmer two to 2 1/2 hours over low heat. Add a little water if ribs are sticking.

Dolly's Shadow Box

A wonderful idea for daughter: Unpainted open shelves that are attached to the wall in her room. Paint the shelves to harmonize with wall paint or paper. At the end of every play session, dolls go into their separate niche... on display!

Heart of Your Home

Warmth is most certainly the heart of your home, so I often think of natural gas as being part of that "heart". Gas controls home temperatures year-round, furnishes the flame for cooking, water heating, refrigeration and incineration. The gas-heated home is a warm-hearted home because you have more time with this efficient helper. Your local gas company keeps you supplied with natural gas, and Northern Natural Gas Company keeps your local gas company supplied — both bring better living to you.

Oh-Oh... Telephone!

Ever notice the phone always rings, just as you've put your hands into bread or cookie dough? Mrs. S. L. Hinzmen of Omaha, Nebr., slips a plastic bag over her hand as she reaches for the phone — Clever, eh?

NEW HOME OFFICE
GUARANTEE MUTUAL LIFE COMPANY
87th and Indian Hills Drive

You are invited to open house
Wednesday, May 28

This design symbolizes the modular concept of the building. An area six feet square became the module for design and construction — and is repeated throughout the building. It provides efficiency, orderliness, and expandability — the dynamic new dimensions of our future.

You are invited to visit the new Home Office of The Guarantee and tour the new facilities from 2 until 9 p.m. on Wednesday, May 28. You will enjoy the charm and the stimulating atmosphere of these unusual offices — an achievement both in beauty and efficiency. Guides will explain the highlights of this contemporary structure of sparkling glass and satin-finish aluminum. They will point out how planning and advanced design provide a continuous and uninterrupted work flow within and between the departments. You will see how dynamic new dimensions have been applied in office design.

Pace-setting growth of The Guarantee during the last ten years made larger and more efficient quarters for the Home Office staff a necessity. These offices will make possible even better service to our present and future policyowners and our field representatives.
