Friday's Game Here Postponed

The baseball game scheduled between the Plattsmouth Platte League team and the Leftouts here the 4th was not played. The athletic field was too wet from more than 1½ inches of rain last week.

Rain and wet grounds also forced postponement of the Platte League all-star game in which Plattsmouth players were to participate at Waterloo Thursday night.

Don't Flip, If You See Buffalo

NEBRASKA CITY — Buffalo once again roam the Nebraska-Iowa border, in the wild. Medford James, a local commercial fisherman, was shaken slightly when he came face to face with a snorting buffalo on an island in the Missouri River above here. James escaped without injury.

Other people have reported seeing the animal on the river island during the last two weeks but no one knows how the buffalo got there.
