Susan Stone still resides on the home farm at Union, Nebraska, where he came in the 1880's.
Queen Susan's parents have lived in Cass County all of their lives, and they have been very active in their community, as members of the Congregational Church, Masonic Lodge, and other activities they have always done more than their part.
Susan's father is a Master Mason, was on the Weeping Water School Board for 6 years, member of the boy scouts committee, and the Weeping Water athletic association.

At the present time Mr. Stone is Field Supervisor in Farm Management Department of the Steve Davis Agency in Plattsmouth.

Susan has two brothers, Jerry Stone and John Stone.
Queen Susan has a record of active young womanhood filled with scholastic, church and community achievements, and this well qualifies her for the title, as Queen of the King Korn Carnival of 1958.

Dale Bowman, master of ceremonies for the KKK Kornation here Thursday night, asked the three thousand spectators as the pageant unfolded to view it with the thought that the honors bestowed are but a reflection of the honors and respect due all good citizens of our times and the high regard which each of us can earn through true American citizenship by service to one's God, to one's country and to one's community.

In appropriate settings in keeping with the KKK theme "Kornland to Space Land" Mr. Bowman reminded "tonight we are gathered in the surroundings of a modern city complete with fine homes and progressive merchants to pay tribute to the same progressiveness and foresighted spirit that built our community from a river trading post to the bright spot that it now holds in the defense and the future security of our prosperous land."

First to enter the rostrum was the reigning King and Queen -- King Newton Sullivan and Queen Jeanine Newton Rhea.

Amid fanfare attention was directed to the royal space gates where Jim Wall, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Wall, and Kenneth Hamilton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hamilton, were on guard. Entering were the countesses, representing Murdoch was Miss Sharon Panska, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albin Panska and her escort Count Robert Neben, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Neben.

From Avoca was countess Crystal Seegal, daughter of Mrs. Elsie Seegal and her escort Count Jim Schultz, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joyce Schultz. From Eagle Countess Connie Trumble, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Keith Trumble and escort Count Roger Walker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Walker of Eagle.

BRINGING CHRIST TO THE NATIONS

CHURCH FLOAT—First Lutheran Church's float in the Friday night parade focused serious thought on the way the world meets responsibilities in space age. Kornland to Spaceland was the Karnival theme.

DISTRICT 41—Top float in the rural school section was the District 41 (Pleasant Ridge) entry. The theme was that corn is still the midwest's vehicle to world notice, even in the space age.
