The Debt We Owe

Among the debts we owe, not including those which we must repay painfully in the prevailing currency, is a debt to our community or home town. There are those who never consider this debt, but it is a real debt, and some repayment is due.

The key to this debt lies in the first word the "home." It is a wonderful word in the English language, which is never fully defined or adequately translated in foreign tongues.

And when we say "home," we are referring to a house, a husband and wife, who become a father and mother usually, with all the happiness, love, hope and faith that surrounds a home. The home is protected, sheltered and made efficient by modern-day wonders.

Let us look a minute at our culture and civilization and see what we have received in our home town, at birth. There was a time when we had to roam the woods like beasts, with family or home, without a church to allay primitive superstition, without a government to keep order, and without organized society to broaden our social contacts, and without profitable trade — which makes warfare unprofitable.

None of us did much to arrange this wonderful inheritance of the family, the church, organization of the state, society, economics, etc. We came into a world with many modern conveniences, benefitting from the lessons and experiences of the past and enjoying all the progress which our home town, the state, the nation and the world has made.

This is the debt we owe. It is the obligation of each of us to contribute what he can to the continuing progress of the human race, even if in a small way, so that we can repay this large debt we owe in our own individual way.

The fall meeting of the Plattsmouth deaconry of the Catholic church was held here at the Holy Rosary church with a large attendance. Mrs. J. C. Rauth of Manly presided. Among the attendants at the session was Ray Haslm and a group of the members of Euclid lodge No. 95 of Weeping Water — A large number of Plattsmouth people were at Red Oak where they witnessed the Simpson college-Tarkio college game won by Tarkio 16 to 0. Joe Case and Wayne Falk were out of the game due to injuries — A petition was filed in the office of the county clerk asking Ed W. Thimgan to accept the nomination by petition for county sheriff and make the race against Sheriff Homer Sylvester and Joe Mrasek. In 1922 Mr. Thimgan came within 148 votes of defeating C. D. Quinton who had held the office for sixteen years. At the death of Sheriff Bert Reed he was selected by the commissioners to fill the sheriff's office which he held from January 1932 to November of that year when defeated by Sheriff Sylvester — The Cass county Schoolmen's association met at Nehawka. 30 YEARS AGO

Murray, target several times of burglars, was again visited and for the "steenth" time Earl Lancaster was the victim of the unwelcome callers, and as the result is short a large part of the stock the value of which has not been determined. The robbers made entrance to the double store building by forcing a window in the rear of the B. H. Nelson hardware store and then made their way into the Lancaster general store. The articles taken were mostly wearing apparel, shirts, shoes, overalls and articles of a similar nature. The robbers took their time apparently in selecting what they wanted and getting away. Neighbors discovered the open window in the morning and reported the matter — The Plattsmouth Chamber of Commerce members were guests of the Louisville Chamber at a fish feed, held in the Louisville auditorium. The dinner was presided over by Lee J. Mayfield, editor of the Courier. Mayor Elmer Sundstrom extended the welcome. The address of the evening was by Congressman John H. Morehead.

1856 Locomotive
Stroll Pulls 'Em

The "William Mason," a wood burning locomotive of 1856 manufacture from the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad's transportation museum, proved a stellar attraction on M-G-M's "Raintree County" location in Kentucky. Coming to the Cass Theatre, Plattsmouth, Nebr., Sun. to Wed. Sept. 28 to Oct. 1.

Freighted to the shooting site aboard flat cars of a modern, Diesel-powered train, the historic engine operated under its own power for scenes in the picture. Herman Oberender, museum curator and a retired railroad engineer, was at the throttle, wearing a handlebar mustache supplied by M-G-M make-up artists.

Working on a seldom-used branch line of the Louisville & Nashville Railroad near Lancaster Ky., where studio construction crews built an 1899-style depot for the frictional town of Freehaven, "Raintree County," Indiana, the "William Mason" ran reliably on schedule during the film unit's eight-hour shooting day.

The old locomotive and its train of museum-piece cars, drew almost as much attention from the crowds of spectators as did stars Montgomery Cliff, Elizabeth Taylor and Eva Marie Saint. Adv.
