Will Dedicate New Church At Syracuse Sunday At 4 p.m.

Notice has been received here by members of Cass County Vulture No. 1218 Forty and Eight that dedication ceremonies will be held at Syracuse Sunday, Oct. 19 at 4 p.m. of new church in the parish of Grand Aumonier Fr. E. C. McFadden.

During the campaign to erect the church, various ventures of the order joined in a campaign to aid in the equipment of the church of "Father Mac". The contributions of the voyageurs have secured for the church a stained glass window and the altar crucifix.

The dedication will be by Bishop James Casey of Lincoln.

Following the dedication, refreshments and food will be served to those attending at the Legion Club at Syracuse. This feature will be provided by Father McFadden and Voyageur Jim Cullen.

Chapeau should be worn by Voyageurs attending. It is urged that as many as possible of the local vulture attend. Those going are urged to contact Correspondent Albert Olson by Saturday.

A commission was appointed he said and for 18 months they studied survival resources in Nebraska. There is now in the making an operative plan for the State of Nebraska and Sept. 17 a briefing session was held, with completion of operative plans for five target areas in the state, Omaha, Lincoln, South Sioux City, Hastings and Sidney.

Bacon said it is important that "we integrate state government into civil defense plans by beginning on state, then county and then city levels."

Highlight of the evening was the banquet with International Affairs as the theme. Table decorations carried out this theme with flags of all nations and dolls dressed to represent various countries of the world. The floral centerpiece was red, white and blue.

Music for the banquet program was furnished by the Plattsmouth High School Music Department. Miss Beverly George sang a solo and the Girls Octet sang.

Speakers were Nora Davila and Manuel Torregroza from Colombia, South America—CARE country of N.F.W.C. Mrs. Calvin Sterns, second vice president, introduced the guest speakers, students at University of Nebraska.

Miss Davila took the group on a trip around Colombia. Manuel is working on his Masters degree in Agronomy and expects to return to help the farmers of his homeland produce more and better crops to raise their standards of living.

Asked "How can we be better liked by your people?" he replied, "much depends on your ambassadors and other visitors representing your country. Often, they do not get down to our people's level—to really understand their problems—to learn their language."

The Friday morning session opened with an impressive candle lighting exemplification of the Club Collect. Participants in this ceremony were county presidents from Cass, Johnson, Nemaha, Otoe and Richardson counties, and local presidents from Lancaster County.

Rev. Keith Delap of the host church, spoke on "The City of Everywhere", for the devotional period which closed with Mrs. Hugh Stander Jr., singing "How Beautiful Upon the Mountain."

Junior Federation work was presented by Mrs. Francis Moles, State Director of Juniors, who was introduced by first district Junior Club director, Mrs. Stander.

Mrs. Vern Lewis, a past district president, presented the Nurses Scholarship Gift Loan.

Mrs. W. H. Hasebrook gave much food for thought with her topic "Fares Please." She said that club women must pay their fares in service to their communities because it is the rent they pay for the space they occupy.

Mrs. P. O. Marvel, president N.F.W.C., spoke on Friday afternoon from the topic "Sing Out The Glory." She said "we must show appreciation of our country, our privileges and our opportunities by giving favorable publicity to our work."

An illustrated lecture "Pillars in the Desert" was given by Rev. Joe Barr, pastor of Murray Presbyterian Church. His story was of eleven American youth who attended a work camp in Egypt.

Mrs. L. B. Dalton was General Convention Chairman with Mrs. Wm. Knorr as co-chairman. The banquet and luncheon was prepared and served by ladies of the Presbyterian Federation.
