Election Day Very Quiet In Plattsmouth

Tuesday, election day, was very quiet in Plattsmouth with very little activity aside from the usual group of shoppers on the streets.
 A small stream of voters were to be found wending their way to the down town voting places during the morning hours with the number growing in the afternoon.
 A great part of the voting was in the late afternoon and early evening until the close of the polls. The workers at the BREX and those employed in Omaha did their voting after 4:30 until the closing of the polls at 8 p.m.
 The day was very arid and the taverns were closed for the hours the polls were open.

By MELVIN PAUL
Statehouse Correspondent
The Nebraska Press Association
LINCOLN—The exact route of the Interstate Highway west from Lincoln will be announced soon, possibly this month.
 State Engineer L. N. Ress had tentatively set December as the time for announcing the route, but this could be advanced. It is anticipated the segment from Lincoln to Grand Island will follow a straight line between the two cities.
 From there on is the question. There has been controversy over whether the four-lane road should go north or south of the Platte River.
 A stretch of the highway between Gretna and Omaha now is usable, but it is not connected to the cities by hard-surfaced roads yet.
 The cost of the Interstate per mile runs from $300,000 in some rural areas to a staggering $7 million in Omaha.
 The average per-mile bill will be about $600,000.
 Comments Ress: "These costs are considered average, or below average, in a comparison with costs of Interstate construction in other states, because we have no extremely mountainous regions to contend with and our miles of right-of-way in heavily populated urban areas are few."
 The route is 1st taking shape between Omaha and Lincoln and travel over that segment is expected in 1960.
 Nebraska has a $40 million Interstate program laid out for the current two years, which end in July 1959. By the end of this year the state expects to have about $25 million in work on the road under contract.

Open To Public

The State Penitentiary's "open door" policy for organized groups has met with outstanding success.
 That's the report from Warden Joseph Bovey who says some 4,000 prisoners have been given an "unrestricted tour" of the institution in the last three years.
 Groups can tour the penitentiary for about an hour and 15 minutes, eat a regular prison meal in the trusty dormitory for about 35 cents and see a variety show by inmates.
 The tour educates the public to what goes on inside the walls of the institution, how prisoners are treated and shows them what they eat and the economical cost of preparing the food, Bovey said.
 Entertainment is an inducement for the inmates to stay on good behavior and fits in with the institution rehabilitation program, the warden related.
 About one group a week makes the tour and an average size is 50 persons, he added.
 Food does not come out of the ration for inmates, the warden said.
 The charge is just slightly more than what it costs to feed an inmate, he said, and money goes into the institutional cash fund of the Board of Control, which governs the institution and 16 others—and is used to help pay for the cost of running the penitentiary.

Studebaker's Lark Makes Debut

Studebaker's 1959 Lark two-door sedan is powered by a 169.6-cubic inch engine with an improved combustion chamber design with a shorter stroke, plus a higher 8.3 to 1 compression ratio and new carburetion. The result: maximum economy of operation and durability, combined with smooth, lively performance. All Studebaker engines for 1959 are designed to operate efficiently on regular gasoline. A redesigned ladder-type frame provides greater torsional and beam strength. This, coupled with stronger body construction, means greater structural rigidity. The new Lark thus rides more quietly — free from annoying squeaks and rattles.
