

SOUTH ASHLAND

Mrs. Ivan Armstrong

The Friendly Neighbors Extension Club members had their Christmas twelve o'clock luncheon and party at the home of Mrs. Victor Miller Tuesday. A gift exchange was enjoyed for the ladies and children.

Mrs. Wilson Lambert was hostess to the Happy Homemakers Extension Club Wednesday. Nineteen were present for Christmas party and gift exchange. Names were drawn for Secret Sisters. A regular business meeting preceded the party.

Lynn Roebert, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Roebert was two years old Dec. 18. His grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Roebert and Mr. and Mrs. Herman Gakemeier, a great aunt, Mrs. Emma Neumann and uncle and aunt Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Roebert, John and Merry Sue helped him celebrate the day.

An installation service held at Trinity Lutheran church Sunday afternoon for their new pastor, the Rev. John Boerger who came here from Scottsbluff. Several visiting ministers conducted the service. Supper was served in the church dining room. Wednesday evening the congregation held a reception for Rev. and Mrs. Boerger and son in the church parlors, giving the members an opportunity to meet and welcome the new pastor and family.

A group of relatives gathered at the Wilson Lambert home Sunday to help Roger celebrate his fifth birthday. Those present were, Mrs. John Lambert and Willis of Greenwood, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Willis, Hubert and Gladys Willis all of Prairie Home, and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Nelson of Lincoln.

Gary McBride accompanied Raymond Buell home from Ioane College at Crete Friday afternoon. The boys will spend their Christmas vacation with their parents. Mr. and Mrs. Howard McBride of Springfield and Gary were Friday supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Buell and Raymond.

Lynn Humston came home Friday and will spend his Christmas vacation from his school work at Westmar College in Le Mars, Ia.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Richards were Thursday evening dinner guests at the Glen Fosnot home in Lincoln, they were helping their granddaughter, Jennifer, celebrate her tenth birthday.

Mrs. Earl Mansfield attended a Christmas program at the Ashland school Thursday afternoon.

Her grandson Dick Watson, a kindergarten pupil took part. Sara Humston and Carol Stroy were speakers at the annual meeting of the Farmers Union at the Murdock gymnasium Monday evening. The girls had been sent to camp Jefferson near Fairbury by the Farmers Union last summer and each gave a report on camp life.

Mr. and Mrs. Malvin Wiles and Terry were Monday evening visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Gene Grimm and family in their new home on Furnas street in Ashland. Mr. and Mrs. Wiles had dinner Thursday with Mr. and Mrs. Troy Wiles.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Armstrong attended funeral services for Joe Lanik, at St. Wencelous church in Wahoo, Wednesday morning. The Lanik and Armstrong families were neighbors in the old Plainview vicinity. Mr. Lanik passed away in his sleep early Monday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Nelson were Lincoln visitors Thursday and had supper with Mr. and Mrs. Dunne Nelson.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Wagner visited with Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Olson and Mrs. Lillie Wagner in Wahoo Sunday evening.

Edward Sowards of Lincoln was a visitor at the Orie Sowards home Thursday.

Mrs. John Fox attended the Memphis Home Science Club Christmas party at the home of Mrs. Eimer Ziegenbein in Ashland Thursday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Fox spent Thursday in Lincoln and visited at the Raymond Judas home.

Mr. and Mrs. John Wescott and Carrie Ann of Raymond were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Dave Parrott at a pre-Christmas dinner Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Arley Bager joined Mr. Bager's brothers and sisters at a pre-Christmas dinner and party at the Ivan Barger home in Lincoln Sunday.

Mrs. Mack Stuckney and pupils of District 58 presented their Christmas program Friday evening. Although there are only six pupils, each one carried several parts and an hour long program was enjoyed. The school room was beautifully decorated with cedar boughs, red ribbons and a tree. Lunch was served after the program.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Dreyer of near Memphis visited with Mr. and Mrs. John Fox Friday evening and accompanied them to the program at the school house.

Homemaking

Notes

The holiday season is an especially busy time for Extension and 4-H Club families. Many clubs held Christmas parties. Often the whole family was included for the annual get-together.

Your Home Agent enjoyed visiting several Christmas meetings and became better acquainted with club members. It is interesting to hear of the many worthwhile projects sponsored by local Home Extension clubs in Cass County. Many rest homes, children's homes, hospitals and homebound persons are remembered not only at Christmas time, but all through the year.

The inspirational programs given at many Extension club meetings bring the true meaning of Christmas closer to every heart.

The Avoca Homemakers 4-H Club has reorganized for 1939 with two new leaders, Mrs. Richard Norris and Mrs. Leonard Brinkhoff of Avoca. Mrs. Albert Bose has done a fine job leading this 4-H Club for the past six years.

Did you buy a frozen turkey for your Christmas dinner? Maybe you think you are real modern. It might interest you to know that frozen turkeys were on sale in Massachusetts something like 300 years ago.

An early keeper of chronicles in Philadelphia reported a wild turkey weighing 50 pounds being brought to the local market by a hunter. The settlers in Georgia paid "four pence" for a wild turkey bought from the Indians.

Today's turkeys are much plumper, meatier, more tender and juicier than the wild turkeys of long ago, or even the tame turkeys of a generation ago.

Some tips for your holiday meals: One quart of gravy makes 12 to 15 servings.

One pound of fresh cranberries will make 10 to 15 servings of relish or sauce.

One package of frozen vegetables makes 3 to 4 servings.—Mrs. Nancy Sutton, Home Extension Agent.

FALLEN AMONG THIEVES
 Tonkawa, Okla. — The Rev. Ted Fix hopes the thief who looted his car takes some note of the items he stole.

The robber made off with a collection of sermon notes, a number of religious books and Bibles.

QUANTITY IF NOT QUALITY
 Albuquerque, N. Mex. — For years J. N. Judd had a sign posted on the front of his house warning that there were 16 dogs inside.

But a burglar who entered the house recently and looted it not only escaped unscathed — but also took one of the dogs with him.

BUSMAN'S HOLIDAY
 Seminole, Tex. — A bus company is being sued for $25,000 by Mrs. Anna Crapps, who contends she suffered a nervous breakdown after a bus in which she was riding was taken on a joy ride by an off-duty driver for the company.
