In The Service

OAHU, T. H. — Marine Pvt. Ronald R. Halterman, son of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Halterman of Route 1, Plattsmouth, Nebr. is serving with the Fourth Regiment of the First Marine Corps, Air Station, Oahu, T. H.

The regiment conducted a major field exercise Dec. 18-19 on the northeastern tip of the Island of Oahu.

Terrain in the maneuver area ranges from rugged mountains to lush valleys covered with dense sub-tropical growth. The regiment's mobile capabilities were put to the test since the lava soil is soft, often muddy and the hills steep with footing uncertain.

Main purpose of the exercise was to allow Marines to employ all their tactical weapons including artillery, light crew-served weapons, and helicopters.

Admiral Arleigh A. Burke, chief of naval operations: "The communists may not be willing to trigger their own nuclear destruction — yet they will use every means at their disposal short of this to gain their ends."
