The Mayor opened his remarks by stating he would direct attention to only a limited phase of Civic Affairs, explaining the working of the local city government, its various boards and departments. The City Council meetings are conducted in much the same manner as most meetings, with roll call, reading of minutes and reports and recommendations from standing committees. The proceedings of the council meetings appear in detail in the recorded minutes, open for your inspection, and as information and guidance for each council session." Mayor Roberts said "your organization falls within or approaches the same category in which city government falls. Since your organization accepted the privilege of organizing under the principles of a free nation, it ought, for all interests and purposes, accept its share of the responsibilities when it comes to civic affairs. . . . And looking to the record of your clubs' accomplishments, one can readily see that you have contributed greatly to the welfare of our community."

Following his remarks Mayor Roberts opened a question and answer session in which club members enthusiastically participated, making constructive criticisms and suggestions looking to the betterment of Plattsmouth as an inviting place to live. One of the chief items of discussion was the beautification of the city as well as its approaches by conducting an anti-litter bug campaign; as well as lack of proper parking in residential sections; and the issue of allowing dogs to run loose, the matter of better street markers and proper intersection traffic lights. The discussion period made for a most interesting and informative meeting, and Mrs. Dalton for the club expressed appreciation to Mayor Roberts for his remarks.

The evening closed with serving of refreshments by Mesdames, Walter Gleason, Christy Hickey, Sybil Hetrick, L. D. Hiatt, Wm. Kraeger, G. G. Griffin, C. E. Ledgway and Blanche Snel.
