RECIPE FILE
Keeping a box of recipe cards? Use different colored cards for different types of recipes. For example, white for meat dishes, blue for vegetables, green for pastries. After you've tried the recipe, ask your family how they liked it. Mark with little stars from your stationery store. A silver star means good; a red star, very good; a blue star, extra special!

BACON TIPS
When you take sliced bacon from your gas refrigerator, roll up the whole package crosswise. The slices will separate immediately. Save time when frying bacon: Criss-cross the pieces in the pan and turn all at once with a pancake turner.

NO SOAP?
If the kiddies and Dad complain because they can't find the soap when they're in the shower, try this: Sew a small square piece of plastic inside the shower curtain to "pocket" the soap. It might hold both the washcloth and the soap... should solve the problem of calling for you every time.

FAMILY GIFT
Turn on the hot water and your gas heater automatically heats more. Your supply is always one step ahead of the peak demand. You can easily see why one-half of all American families have modern gas water heaters in their homes. Instead of slowly heating water and then storing it, a gas water heater heats it as you need it... pipin' hot as you want it! Why not make a new gas water heater a post-holiday gift to the family? They're on display at your local gas company and gas appliance dealer.

BATHROOM CATCHALL

Check your attic; see if you have an old stand-up type sewing cabinet. Convert it so easily into a useful catchall and dressing table for your bathroom: Clean and sand the sewing cabinet. Cover it with a shiny coat of pastel paint. When it dries, decorate with tiny gummed stickers in fancy shapes. Deep-well sides serve as a hamper; drawers take bathroom miscellany.

TREND TOWARD COMFORT

Since you spend so much time in your kitchen (even entertain there over cups of coffee), it's so nice to depend on natural gas and modern gas appliances. They do your laundry jobs, dispose of garbage, heat your water, without being obvious or noisy. So handy for you... yet so quiet and so beautiful! Northern Natural Gas Company pipes gas hundreds of miles to your local gas company, who pipes it into your home for gracious modern living!

SUNDAY NIGHT SUPPER

Here's a good way to please the family on Sunday night... and so easy on Mom! Mrs. Elbert E. Bothun, Austin, Minn., sends us her favorite recipe: Brown $\frac{1}{2}$ cup chopped onions in 2 Tbsp. fat. Add and brown 1 lb. ground beef. Mix in 2 Tbsp. flour, 6 Tbsp. catsup, 1 Tbsp. mustard, $\frac{1}{2}$ tsp. salt, $\frac{1}{4}$ tsp. pepper and 1 cup sour cream. Simmer 5 to 10 minutes on gas range. Serve on hot crispy toast to 6 hungry people.
