Crete Hands Plattsmouth 79-53 Conference Defeat

Plattsmouth saw Paul Kersenbrock and three guys named Ken, Tom and Ron Friday night. Those four led Crete to a 79-53 basketball conquest of Plattsmouth High here.

Kersenbrock, 6-8, was all he was supposed to be, and more. He didn't have a real good night but he showed he may be a real basketball player before he's through.

At that, his presence upset Plattsmouth from the start.

There's always some doubt about the ability of a tall high school player to move. Kersenbrock dispelled any doubt fast.

He scored the first basket of the game on the lead end of a fast break. In fact, he was all alone as he went the last yards to place a carryup shot in the basket.

Crete led 2-0 and was ahead throughout. Kersenbrock later was troubled with fouls and sat out part of the game.

When he was gone, others took over. Ken Parker was a terrific rebounder and scored 19 points. Tom Rine, like Kersenbrock, got 13. Ron Douglas hit 12.

Plattsmouth, meanwhile, was having another tough night of shooting. Even with Jim Shown back with a bandaged hand a recovery from two straight losses after four initial wins wasn't possible.

The Devils hit only 292 on 19 for 65 but Coach John Adkins was encouraged at least by the fact they managed to get up a respectable number of shots.

"You just don't look good when you don't hit," Adkins commented.

Crete shot an amazing 523 on 34 for 65. Included were several easy shots toward the end of the game when Plattsmouth was pressing on defense to try to steal the ball.

Adkins said his team might have held the score down if they hadn't pressed but he wanted to do all he could to get his team back in the game.

In the fourth quarter, Plattsmouth equalled Crete's 24 point output after the visitors had had an advantage of 55-28 to that point.

Al Dasher suffered a knee injury for Plattsmouth near the end but was evidently alright Saturday.

Tom Winscot was Plattsmouth's leading scorer with 14. J. C. Draper got 12 and Shown 11.

The loss made the Devils' season mark 4-3 and their Twin Rivers standing 1-1.

Junior High Seeking 4th Cage Win

Plattsmouth Junior High will seek its 4th straight victory as part of a basketball doubleheader here Wednesday at the high school gym.

Junior High plays Nebraska City Junior High at 4 p. m. and the freshman teams of the two towns' high schools play immediately afterward.

Here last Thursday, Junior High withstood a last period surge by Glenwood Junior High to win, 29-27.

Plattsmouth led, 18-8, into the last quarter.

Reserves Look Sharp, Win 49-40

Plattsmouth High's basketball reserves played their best of the season Friday night to defeat Crete's reserves, 49-40.

Seven of eight players who got into the game scored, led by Galen Pritchard with 14, Jim Stewart 11 and Dave Albert and Larry Christenson 8 each.

Plattsmouth got off to a 16-8 lead at the end of the first quarter as Pritchard hit three baskets. At the half it was 29-18 and at the end of three quarters, 37-31.
