

PLUM TREE PLUMB DOWN — Saturday's big wind broke a number of tree limbs but down on Lincoln Avenue it gave an extra huff and puff and uprooted (of all things), a full grown plum tree located in the yard of the Harold Austins. A top out of a large shade tree landed on the Austin trailer house but did no appreciable damage.

Brooks Aide Speaks Here At Banquet

Wednesday evening Plattsmouth lodge No. 6 held their first Masters Night in the second hundred years of lodge history with an audience of some 200 members of Plattmouth and neighboring lodges present to join in the event.

Delbert Todd, worshipful master, presided as toastmaster of the banquet, introducing the various participants on the program.

Rev. A. L. Embree, member of the order and pastor of the First Methodist church, gave the invocation. While the members of the party were enjoying the delightful repast, a group of the talented young people of the city schools presented a most interesting musical program. A mixed quartet from the school gave several numbers, John and Jane Fauquet, Larry Christianson, Margie Grosshans, that reflected the greatest credit on the talented young people. Carol Long, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Long, who has won wide recognition for her musical work, gave several numbers.

The welcome to the event was given by Mayor Grant Roberts to the visiting Masons.

Lester Hutchison, past master, made presentation of the past master's jewel to Raymond Lancaster, who had served as master of the lodge in the golden anniversary year, 1958, for his fine work and long devotion to the order.

Mr. Lancaster responded feelingly to the presentation and appreciation fine assistance he had received in his year in the office.

W. F. Evers, past master, acting for Grand Custodian Raymond C. Cook, III at the Clarkston hospital, presented the distinguished guests of the evening. These included Carl Giersen, grand secretary, and members of the visiting lodges from Nehawka, Elmwood, Weeping Water, Springfield, as well as lodges from Iowa and Kansas. One of the visitors present gave a Masons' real treat, being Nelson Jean, of Donna, Texas, master of Plattsmouth lodge back in 1918-19, who ranks as the oldest past master in point of service. Mr. Jean was at the time of his selection one of the youngest men to be elevated to the office.

The address of the evening was by Robert Conrad, executive secretary to Governor Ralph Brooks who was unable to attend the gathering owing to his health. Mr. Conrad gathered from the teachings and precepts of Masonry, laws that formed a part of government. He touched briefly on the legislation and laws that were being enacted in Nebraska or planned for future welfare of the state. It was an address greatly enjoyed and appreciated by the audience.
