Sun Gets Hotter

Scientists have come to the conclusion that in the past five years the sun has become two percent brighter, and has probably grown correspondingly warmer. This is an interesting development, since it had been concluded by many scientists that the heat of the sun was diminishing.

Some weather experts had assumed, on the assumption that the sun was gradually burning up, that this would have a long-term effect on the weather.

The effect—if there was, or is any,—would naturally be almost unnoticeable and would be measured in hundreds of years. However, if the earlier theory is incorrect, and the sun is actually growing hotter, and brighter, this may upset the scientific apocryphal to a degree.

The rate of change which is suspected, in the period from 1953 to 1958, is a two percent rise in brightness. It is assumed that the sun has thereby grown warmer. Some scientists believe that this may throw light on the climate changes that, in the past, melted the polar ice and flooded large parts of the world.

In any event, it is an interesting discovery, or theory, and one of considerable scientific value.

Down Memory Lane

20 YEARS AGO

A history making event occurred at the Plattsmouth docks when one of the gigantic gas barges of the Socony Vacuum Co. of Kansas City arrived and tied up at the dock enroute to Omaha. It was the maiden voyage for the barge and the first commercial barge to stop here since the eighties. The boat carried a crew of fifteen persons and towed two barges that had the capacity of 400,000 gals. of gasoline or the equivalent of fifty railroad cars. A few of those at the dock boarded the boat and had a fine time looking over the craft. E. G. Williams, and Carl Ofc, local representatives of the company boarded the craft at this point to look over the vessel—James Brown and Jack Lorenz have shown themselves as real lovers of bird life. Recently a pigeon came to the Brown home with an injured wing, result of a shot. He was taken care of by the boys and who set the broken wing and it was able in a few days to fly away to again join its mates — George E. Sayles, graduate of the 1939 class of Creighton university college of dentistry has received one of the highest honors that can come to a student, the Thaddeus V. Joseph prize, given to the student for the highest average in the four years of school. He was awarded the membership and key in the Omicron Kappa Upsilon honorary dental fraternity — John E. Gilmore, son of Dr. and Mrs. G. H. Gilmore of Murray, was graduated from the University of Nebraska college of medicine. He entered the University in 1932. In 1934 he was commissioned second lieutenant in the ROTC and served with the regular army at Fort Crook. On his graduation, he was promoted to first lieutenant and assigned to the regular army. On June 15th Dr. Gilmore will leave for Victoria, Canada, where he will enter the Royal Jubilee hospital — Clyde Althouse of Eagle has been named as one of the delegates to the national 4-H Club Camp in Washington. He has had a brilliant record in 4-H work in Nebraska that led to his being selected as one of the four delegates. At the close of his eleventh year in 4-H work he has won 34 achievement certificates and made $3,200 including prize money on his stock.

30 YEARS AGO

Summer school was being held at the local high school under the direction of R. Foster Patterson, head of the department and debating. The school will run for six weeks and hours are from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. — Petition has been filed by property owners to enlarge the gravel program in Plattsmouth precinct. The new petition carries the gravel farther west on the Cedar Creek road to the Plattsmouth precinct line and thence south to connect with the Eight Mile Grove gravel on the Louisville road — James M. Robertson, Jr., and Francis Stoll a neighbor boy, had a close call from death when they were overcome by gas at the Robertson home and were unconscious several hours. They were found by Billy Robertson, Jr., a brother of James, who attempted to arouse the boys and his cries attracted the attention of Mrs. Herman Hough, Dr. Westover was called, after some time the boys were revived. They had gone to the basement to light the gas heater that later blew out and filled the basement with gas — J. H. ## Capitol News

By Melvin Paul
Statehouse Correspondent
The Nebraska Press Association
LINCOLN — Probably the most talked about group of people in the current session of the Legislature is state employees.

The subjects under discussion range from pay to politics. Actual beginning of the matter came when several bills were introduced in the Legislature to boost the pay of some department heads and deputies.

Some bills were passed by the Legislature. Others did not make the grade. Then Gov. Ralph G. Brooks began exercising his veto power on salary hikes authorized by the Legislature.

In the meantime, Richard E. Spelts Jr., of Grand Island issued a statement saying that 30 statehouse employees changed their political party affiliation from Republican to Democrat, indicating this was necessary for them to keep their jobs.

Atty. Gen. C. S. Beck, a Republican, leveled a blast in a letter to Spelts, against Brooks and the Legislature. Beck said the governor's veto of salary bills is a political maneuver and members of the Legislature should recognize this and act accordingly.

State senators are elected on a non-partisan basis, but Beck says they should have party loyalty on legislation that is strictly political. There are 31 Republicans among the 43 members of the Legislature.

Brooks then called a press conference and stated that it makes no difference to him when employees change their party affiliation or not.

Ninety-five per cent of the capitol workers are Republicans, Brooks said, and all he wants them to do is "their job."

A change of registration will not protect the inefficient employee, the chief executive, a Democrat, said.

One thing Brooks said should not be done by state employees and that is they should not campaign against the administration while they are employed by it.

Interstate Fuss
The Interstate Highway in Nebraska continues to be a bone of contention as it has since the program began in this state.

The Advisory State Highway Commission by a 5-2 vote, recommended the controversial section of the Interstate be built on the north side of the river between Grand Island and North Platte.

Three state senators, meanwhile, Richard Marvel of Hastings, Don Thompson of McCook and Kenneth L. Bowen of Red Cloud, told Gov. Brooks a great many people, including those in the South Platte area, feel the decision on the North Platte-Grand Island segment was based on inadequate information. Also the senators said, they feel the decision was made before public hearings.

The vice chairman of the commission, J. R. McBride of Minden and an advocate of the south of the river route, said the people had been "double crossed" in that the decision already had been made before public hearings at Kearney and Cozad.

State Engineer Roy Cochran denied this. He said there was no evidence brought out at the hearing that contradicted the highway department's economic study of the two routes.

Cochran said department personnel went through the hearings with "open minds" on the question of the location of the road.

Advisory Commission Stays
The Legislature took up the question of the Advisory State Highway Commission and decided its status should not change.

Involved in floor debate was a bill to give the commission executive power, including hiring the state engineer — now appointed by the governor — and veto power over the governor on road matters.

Now the governor and the engineer have the final say on road problems.

A move to abolish the commission altogether was decisively beaten.

School Funds
Federal matching funds amounting to $448,106 will go to 100 Nebraska high schools for the current school year.

That's the announcement from State Commissioner of Education F. B. Decker.

Decker said the total is three times the amount expected because of a supplemental appropriation authorized by Congress.

Money is to strengthen teaching of science, mathematics and foreign languages.

On a basis of $10.00 per pupil the high schools will get amounts ranging from a low of $943 at Bradshaw to $118,831 at Omaha.

Decker said another $560,132 will become available during the 59-60 fiscal year.

Thus, he said, Nebraska schools will benefit by about $1 million by the end of the second year of the 4-year program.

CAPITOL CORNER

By Rep. Glenn Cunningham
Washington, D. C. (Special)—A House committee has recommended that we abandon for good the pay-as-you-go plan for financing the huge Interstate Highway program. The committee recommends that income taxes make up the deficit, rather than a 1 1/2 cent per gallon increase in the tax on gasoline.

Because the cost of the Interstate Highway keeps skyrocketing, the committee has recommended that federal aid be increased by $330 million to $2.5 billion for 1962.

I favor a pay-as-you-go plan through a stretch-out of the program if necessary or through reducing the 90 per cent federal donation.

In the future, people may be vaccinated against cancer as they are now against smallpox and polio. There is a theory that cancer is caused by a virus, for which a vaccine may be found.

Dr. John R. Heller, director of the National Cancer Institute near Washington, says promising research is being carried out in this field. He also reports that work is underway to find drugs to supplement present methods of prolonging a cancer victim's life and making it more comfortable.

The admission of Alaska and Hawaii to the family of states has shifted the geographical center of the United States from Kansas to western South Dakota.

There is a move afoot in Congress to designate the new geographic center of the nation as a national monument. The site is now 17 miles west of the town of Castle Rock, S. D.

LETTER BOX

Editor of Journal
Plattsmouth, Neb.
Dear Sir:
Through my dear friend Miss Barbara Gering I have just received a copy of the Journal which related the passing of my lifelong friend,
T. H. Pollock, and I am writing you this note to thank you for the excellent story concerning "Uncle Bert" and also to compliment you on the excellent newspaper the Journal is at this time. It will interest you to know that my father, Charles W. Sherman founded the "Plattsmouth Journal" in 1881 and among his first paper carriers was Bert Pollock, then thirteen years of age and I might say that Bert gave me my first job with his new telephone company.
I wish you all success with the Journal.
Cordially yours,
John W. Sherman,
Pasadena, Calif.

Chamber of Commerce
Plattsmouth, Nebraska
Gentlemen:
In passing through your fine
city a year or so ago, I noticed that one of your stores had a trading stamp exchange service, where you could trade (censored) stamps for (censored) stamps for example. I wonder if you would be so kind as to send me the name and address of this store, so I could take advantage of this service.
Thank you very much.
Sincerely yours,
(Illinois resident)
