

Robert E. Hodgson New Rector at St. Luke's Church

St. Luke's Episcopal Church which has been without the services of a resident rector since the transfer of Father Max Kors, now has been assigned Robert E. Hodgson of Sidney, Neb.

The new rector will be ordained soon at his home parish at Sidney by Bishop Howard R. Brinker, to enter the priesthood of the Nebraska diocese.

Plattsmouth is very fortunate to secure the service of this fine young churchman to add to the religious teachers of the community.

He is a graduate of the University of Nebraska in the class of 1956 and has just completed his studies at the Seabury-Western Seminary at Evanston, Ill.

The new rector is a veteran of World War II, serving for five and one-half years in the Pacific theater, two years in Japan. He is also a member of the Masonic order and the Elks.

Th new rector, who is unmarried, has located in the parish house adjoining the church to take up his service. He is now conducting the services at the church, Sundays at 10 a. m., and is ready to greet residents of the community as pastor of the church.

City To Purchase Tractor, Mower

After discussion at length, the City Council Monday night moved to purchase a used tractor and mower at a cost of $900 for use in mowing weeds and grass on city property.

Councilmen and the mayor expressed concern about the appearance of the "avenues" at the city entrances. They said mowing is essential.

The equipment could also be used to mow where private property owners neglect to care for the properties or the "parkings" which ordinance says are their responsibility.

When such mowing is done, cost of the work shall be paid by the property owner.

The tractor and mower will be needed next year, it was said, to help the Park Board in caring for the area around a flood control dam now under construction.

City street department workers have done some mowing by hand this year. Large mowing jobs last year were done by private arrangement.

Loss of Billfolds and Valuables at Resorts Continue

Theft of billfolds and other personal property from parked cars belonging to persons swimming, continued last week. Five thefts occurred north of Plattsmouth that netted thieves approximately $300 in cash and other valuables.

Sheriff Tom Solomon estimated that 10,000 persons were using lakes and swimming facilities in Cass county Sunday and those who left their personal property in their unwatched cars encouraged this type of stealing.

It is impossible to watch the parked cars and check every person going in and out of cars, Sheriff Solomon said. The people are just going to have to check in their personal belongings while in swimming or take their valuables with them.

Harold Edwards, area manager, made this announcement known today at The Journal. However, Mr. Edwards said foot and bicycle traffic are permissible on the state ground.

BUSINESS NEWS

Bob Hall, former Plattsmouth, man is new pharmacist assisting at Feldhausen Drug. He is a 1940 pharmacy grad of the U of N, once managed Cass Drug, has lived in Texas lately.

Performances on the first two days will begin at 8 p. m. and the Sunday performance will be in the afternoon at 2 o'clock. This year's Rodeo promises to be bigger and better than those of previous years and should provide rip-roaring entertainment for all concerned, the local sponsors say.

Art Fritcher, Henderson, Iowa, is to be this year's rodeo producer and all his 26 years experience in the rodeo business is shown in the choice and condition of top bucking stock and dogging steers, the sponsors say.

The famous bucking horse, "Pay Day," which was not ridden by the cowboys in many attempts last year, will again be available to the cowboys for a try to break his record.

"Ridge Runner," which was ridden only twice last year in 24 rides, looks meaner than ever and seems determined to out-do the other broncs.

This year in the stock herd of this producer are twin Brah-

Kiddie Day Is Big Success

The sun shown brightly on the Kiddie Day Parade in Plattsmouth Friday as hundreds of youngsters pedaled, marched or rode while others lined the sidewalks with their parents to watch.

It was a big day for the youngsters in this area, a big day for the Jaycees and their helpers who popped corn for the kiddies, a big day for the judges who valiently did their best to place the entries in 1st, 2nd, 3rd and 4th places and a whale of a big day for the owner of the miniature train which hauled capacity loads almost continuously from right after the parade until 6 that evening.

In the parade were costumes and caricatures of every description from decorated tricycles to space people.

The youngsters had a field day running down extra tickets for rides on the train. As the day wore to a close, the scramble for tickets increased as the children roamed from store to store seeking the pastebords.

If any child didn't get a ride on the train, it was because he didn't come to town. Many youngsters rode "Roosevelt fashion" . . . "again and again."

Merchants who had offered special bargains for the day reported brisk business throughout the day.

All in all, everyone is happy. "Mert" Jochimsen and his committee deserve a round of thanks for their expert handling of the affair.

Winners in the Parade classes, listed in 1st, 2nd, 3rd and 4th place order, were:

Tricycles—girls, Cindy Walsh, Diane Jackson, no 3rd or 4th; boys—Danny Fauquet, Michael Walsh, Richard Stones, Jerry Gordon.
