

"On second thought — I think you better try for a knock-out."

CAPITOL CORNER

Washington, D. C. (Special)—It has been over a year since President Eisenhower urged Congress to pass legislation to prevent known Communists from receiving P. S. passports. The State Department, as a result of a Supreme Court ruling last year, cannot deny passports to known Communists who are traveling around the world carrying messages for the Red rulers.

The President urged Congress to act as long as July 7, 1958, but to date the liberals in Congress have not done a thing to stop Communists from using U. S. passports to travel abroad and advance the cause of Communism. As a result, the State Department has been forced to issue over 1,150 U. S. passports to persons who evidence Communist affiliations and activities.

Twenty bills introduced in the House by the spenders who favor more and more federal aid and subsidies would cost you and the other taxpayers $194.1 billion during the next five years. These liberal Congressmen who have introduced the bills fail to say how the country can afford such plans.

The anti-church activities of the Chinese Reds are not confined to torture and murder of Chinese ministers and priests. Testimony by five Chinese and Korean churchmen before the House Un-American Activities Committee recently concerned treatment of church members.

The Communists force church members to attend special classes, where the Red doctrine is taught. This is that doctrine:
1. There is no living God.
2. Christ was just a carpenter who was crucified by the people because he wanted to lead a counter-revolution.
3. Christianity is a "religious instrument of foreign imperialists" to poison the Chinese people and "sell them into slavery."

When Washington was known as the Federal City, there was a contest to select a design for our new Capitol building. The contest was won by an amateur designer, William Thornton, who was a physician.

The July 1 cattle-on-feed report shows an increase of 10 per cent over a year ago. The nine North Central states report 7 per cent more cattle-on-feed and the four important western states showed a 21 per cent increase.

Radio Link with Moon

An announcement on the 15th of May may be historical news. It was announced on that day that a radio link had been established via the moon between a radio telescope in the United Kingdom and an Air Force center in Massachusetts. A joint statement, from the manufacturers of the transmitting equipment, noted that experiments made some time ago in England on the reflection of radio waves from the moon had suggested that it would be possible to use the moon for long distance radio communication.

The experiments were carried out successfully, and a preliminary moon radio link between the U. K. and the U. S. has now been established, it was said.

It is thought that a number of scientific measurements have been carried out, using various signals, which will be analyzed, and it is known that the first message to the moon was sent in Morse Code and that is contained the observation that the senders would have no trouble with fishing boats.

Professor A. C. B. Lovell, director of the station in England where radio contact with the Air Force center at Massachusetts was made, has said that the commercial aspects of the recent successful experiment are tremendous. He believes that eventually it will be possible to communicate with any part of the world, with similar equipment, using the moon as a link-up.

He also believes that the successful experiment is highly important to countries where radio-phone communication is almost impossible. And he spoke of "bouncing" a radar echo off Venus at some distant time in the future.

Not being a scientific expert, it is difficult for us to properly evaluate the full significance of this development, although when it is remembered that the earth is 238,000 miles from the moon, and Massachusetts only about 3,000 miles from the transmitting station in England, where the experiment was carried out, one sees the achievement in a better perspective. Without much doubt, we are living in a wonderful age, and soon — it seems almost certain — we will be using the moon and the various planets for communication aids and possibly even as bases. In other words, the funnies of some twenty years ago were not so silly after all.

FIRST JETLINER

Sydney, Australia - Australia took delivery earlier this month of her first jet airliner, which landed at Sydney after crossing the Pacific in 16 hours, 10 minutes on its delivery flight from the United States.

The time—from the San Francisco control tower to the Sydney tower—clipped 11 hours off the tower-to-tower record.

TOO LATE

Spokane—Henry M. Richards, assistant vice president of a downtown bank, was thumbed through a business magazine when an article caught his fancy: "How to prevent bank robberies."

Before Richards was halfway finished, an excited teller ran into his office shouting: "We've just been robbed."

Richards thought the teller was playing a practical joke. He wasn't. A smooth-talking hold-up man had just relieved the bank of $2,477.

Antelope Herds Up

LINCOLN — Final returns from flying surveys on antelope in western Nebraska indicate that herds are up about 41 per cent over the state. Kid survival has not been too successful, reports Nebraska Game Commission.

Antelope on five management units which have been flown since 1955 have increased from 1,810 animals in 1958 to 2,560 in the present survey. The state population is estimated in the vicinity of 3,000 antelope.

Coupled with the increase in herd sizes comes the disturbing news that reproduction success is the lowest reported since the initiation of the surveys. In northern Sioux County, where hunting will be allowed this fall, production has been good, the doe:kid ratio being 100:79. In other sections of the panhandle, however, doe:kid ratios range from 100:42 to 100:44 in other management areas.

Buck:doe ratios in the area open to hunting are 5:100 in the other areas, buck:doe ratios range from 31:100 to 52:100. Spacing from an airplane flying transects over the area, one of the most accurate ways of counting antelope, indicates the Sand Hills population is up 37 per cent over 1958, with an estimated 550 animals in the area. Kid ratios tend to be low.

An estimated 750 antelope populate the area open to the 250 authorized antelope hunters this year, a substantial increase over 1958.

Observed in Rock County where 35 antelope were released in January, 1958, were 42 animals. Productivity was again good. The Rock County population is estimated at 70 to 80 animals. While the herd increased 50 per cent the first year, the increment was not as great this year, due to the greater number of yearlings in the 1958 population.
